FIREMEN . . . begin training for underwater recovery.

Underwater Recovery Unit Readied

Water training began Tuesday for six of 18 firemen who have volunteered to man an underwater recovery team to be operated by the Lincoln Fire Department in cooperation with Lincoln-Lancaster County Civil Defense.

The team is to be fully trained and operative in four to six weeks.

Fire Chief Dallas Johnson said the team will operate primarily in a recovery capacity in drownings anyplace in the county.

The team will operate out of fire headquarters, 18th and Q, during all hours of the day. Johnson said six volunteers from each of the three shifts are taking a 32-hour training course involving classroom and practical lessons.

Course instructor Ron Kennett, a fire fighter with diving experience as a member of a U.S. Navy Underwater Demolition unit said the lessons will include all aspects of scuba diving.

The team will be equipped with two complete scuba diving sets, including wet suits, tanks, fins and other necessary equipment.

Lancaster County Commissioners Tuesday approved the higher of two bids submitted for purchase of a 16-foot boat to be used by the team.

On recommendation of Civil Defense Director Richard Vestecka, who inspected the boats after the bids were submitted but prior to the board's action, the board accepted the $1,479.95 bid of Guy Dean Lake Shore Marina.

Vestecka said that particular boat had a better motor than that offered by the Surplus Center which submitted a total bid of $1,436.

Omaha Mayor Claims City At 'End Of Rope' On Streets

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Omaha—Mayor A. V. Sorensen Tuesday pleaded for more state financial assistance for municipal street construction, arguing that "we in Omaha are at the end of our rope" in providing local tax support.

"Our tax well is just about dry," the mayor told members of the Legislative Council's highway study committee.

"We are desperately in need of state aid."

Sorensen supported a legislative highway study consultant's recommendation that municipal government's share of state-collected highway user revenue be doubled.

Boost urged

The consultant recommended that the city share be boosted from 11% to 22% and the state's share hiked from 53% to 60%. County government's share would be sliced from 36 to 18%.

Even at that, Sorensen said, "we've already been short-changed" since the consultant's proposal represents a compromise formula. Original results of the consultant's "earnings-credit analysis" would have given cities a 28% slice of the pie.

Present allocations are unfair, the mayor told lawmakers.

Omahans now pay $16 million a year in state gasoline taxes and motor vehicle registration fees, Sorensen said. In return, they are allocated about $1.6 million, or 10%, for their own needs.

Paid $37 Million

Omahans have provided "self-help" totaling some $37 million for their street program over the past 10 years, the mayor said. During the same period, the state allocated assistance totaling only $18.7 million.

Now Omaha is "staring in the face" street construction needs totaling $100 million over the next decade, Sorensen said. The alternative, he suggested, is "bumper-to-bumper chaos."

Failure to take action on the $450,000 highway study recommendations during the 1967 Legislature delayed Omaha's street financing program by three years, Sorensen said.

Tax Hike Needed

With an additional one-half cent of gasoline tax allocated to the cities, he said, Omaha could have floated $10 million in street construction bonds to push ahead with its program.

Sorensen said the time has come for state government to equip itself to identify and meet the problems of urban areas, particularly those which plague Omaha where, he noted, nearly one out of every four Nebraskans live.

The mayor urged the Legislature to create a new department of urban affairs. America's crisis in the cities is here, Sorensen said, and great efforts will be required "to make this city a liveable place" for the future.

Backs Bonds

Sorensen said the city accepts the major recommendations of the highway study and he would recommend that the state utilize revenue bonds to help speed highway construction.

In reply to a question from Sen. W. H. Hasebroock of West Point, the mayor also urged speedy action to close the Interstate Highway gap within Omaha.

That gap is going to make Nebraska "the butt of (many) jokes" throughout the nation, he said, and it multiplies Omaha's traffic problems by dumping Interstate truck traffic in the downtown area.

Former State Engineer L. N Ress of Omaha told the committee that the Legislature cannot wisely reallocate highway user revenue until it completes "the first step" of redesignating the state highway system and establishing county primary road and municipal arterial systems.

That task alone should take 18 months to two years, Ress said.

Ress endorsed all financing recommendations, but suggested that the municipalities and counties should seek a mutual agreement on a new allocation formula in order to ease the Legislature's task.

Despite consultant recommendations that it be abolished, Ress said he believes the State Highway Advisory Commission "serves a useful purpose," primarily one of public relations.

Speaking for Dodge County, Highway Superintendent Edward Meyer voiced county opposition to the revenue reallocation proposal.

Dodge County would lose $118,000 a year under the new formula, Meyer said, and "that is too much to lose."

The committee moves its hearings to Tecumseh Wednesday.

Support Of Hruska, Tiemann Pledged To Primary Winner

Both U.S. Sen. Roman L. Hruska and Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann have filed with the secretary of state as uncommitted candidates for delegate-at-large to the Republican National Convention but with announced intentions of supporting the winner of Nebraska's primary on the first ballot.

Sen. Hruska said Tuesday "discussions have been held with a number of candidates who are also filing as 'uncommitted' and pledged to the winner of the presidential primary."

He added that there will be a "free and full discussion" among the state's 16 delegates at the convention "to follow as best we can the wishes of Nebraska Republicans . . . and to take into account the situation as it develops at the convention."

Gov. Tiemann has said in his judgment Nebraska delegates have "a moral obligation" to recognize the position of the state's voters in the May 14 all-star primary on at least the first ballot.

Four other prominent state Republicans — former state chairman Walter C. Witthoff of Fremont, University of Nebraska Regent L. Dick Herman of Omaha, State Central Committee member R. C. Johnson of Mead and John C. Cooper of Humboldt — also filed Tuesday as unpledged candidates for delegate-at-large.

In a prepared statement, Johnson said "I see no reason why I should not support the winner of the Nebraska primary" and predicted former vice president Richard M. Nixon will be that victor.

Johnson last month said he regarded New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller as the candidate who could defeat President Johnson in November.

But Tuesday Johnson said Rockefeller "was moving forward at a fast pace until he stumbled over the New York City garbage cans. But even with that setback he will move to the nomination if Richard Nixon fails in the early balloting."

Rockefeller recently removed himself from the all-star primary ballot with a letter to Secretary of State Frank Marsh.

Also filing Tuesday were:

—Lorenz Neimeyer of Clatonia for director of the Norris Public Power District Subdivision 11.

—Harry Westerhoff of Garland for director of the Seward County Rural Public Power District.

—William A. Metzger of Louisville for director of the Omaha Public Power District's Southern Division.

FARM PLANS BROAD

Rural Poverty Fight Stressed

. . . Permanent Supports Urged

New York Times Service

Washington — President Johnson laid before Congress Tuesday a broad program designed to give farmers more federal protection and rural America more social and economic opportunities.

His special farm message emphasized the need to wipe out rural poverty.

'Only Half The Battle'

His program to put commercial agriculture on "a sounder and stronger footing," he said, was "only half the battle." The other half was providing jobs, housing and other benefits for untrained small farmers and other rural dwellers to keep them on the land instead of streaming into crowded cities to create greater urban problems.

Many of his proposals, including an expanded program of loans for more rural housing and credit, will take congressional authorization, which may not be forthcoming in this presidential election year.

The President said as much, for example, in asking Congress to hold hearings on more market bargaining power for farmers before he makes any legislative proposals.

Johnson proposed:

—"Permanent" enactment of the "backbone" of federal support for the farmer, the 1965 Food and Agriculture Act. This law covers $3-billion-a-year price support and production control programs for such major crops as wheat, feed grains and cotton and payments for idling land not needed for crops.

—Extension of the Food for Freedom program through 1971. "This lifeline of hope to the needy of the world," Johnson said, provides food aid for underdeveloped countries and technical aid to help these countries help themselves. It is scheduled to expire this year.

—Creation of a "National Food Bank." This would be a "security reserve" of wheat, feed grains and soybeans. The President viewed it as a place where deposits could be made in time of plenty to protect farmers against falling prices and for withdrawals in time of scarcity to protect consumers against scarcity. Congress has been considering this proposal for more than a year.

—New bargaining authority for the farmer to give him a stronger voice in setting terms and conditions of sales of his products. This was the first time the President had urged such authority, although bills already have been introduced in Congress to set up a National Agricultural Relations Act for farmers.

—Stronger regulatory programs to guard the farmer against fraudulent practices at the market.

—More "aid and hope" for the small farmer, the untrained operator, young or old, who cannot compete successfully in modern commercial agriculture but who might be helped to convert his small holdings to a more profitable farm or nonfarm enterprise.

—More programs for more industry, better jobs, decent housing and community development in rural areas.

The President's proposal to make price supports permanent drew immediate opposition.

Senate Agriculture Committee Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D-La., said there was "not a chance" that Congress would act as Johnson urged this year or ever.

Poage to Hold Hearings

Chairman W. R. Poage, D-Tex., of the House Agriculture Committee said his panel would hold hearings "as quickly as we can."

What Johnson's message means, said President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation, "is that the administration wants to continue to drive down farm prices and make farmers dependent on government subsidies for a large share of their net income."

The food bank, he said, also was "another scheme to hold down farm prices."

Republican Says 'Rerun'

Republican reaction also was critical. Rep. Odin Langen, R-Minn., chairman of the House Republican Task Force on Agriculture, called the Johnson message "essentially a rerun."

National Grange Master Herschel D. Newsom endorsed the President's proposals but said they "should have come a year ago." Now, however, he said, "we may get an extension of Food for Freedom and a security reserve but from then on it will be uphill."

And Rueben Johnson, the National Farmers Union's legislative director, said the President's proposal for greater bargaining power "exceeds" the NFU's expectations. The organization has long called for more voluntary association of farmers, backed by the government, to bargain with processors.

Farmer's Union, Grange Chiefs Back LBJ's Plan

President Johnson's support for permanent legislation that would extend the present feed grain and wheat program was heralded by the state leaders of the Farmer's Union and Nebraska State Grange.

Farmer's Union president Elton Berck said, "This is very good news and music to my ear. Farmer's Union wants the agriculture program extended this session of Congress because wheat farmers need to know what the guidelines are for farm programs before the 1969 expiration of the present program."

Berck said Farmer's Union has supported an extension of the feed grain and wheat program from both state and national levels.

State Grand Grange Master Albert Ebers of Seward said it would be a disaster to agriculture if the farm programs expired.

He added, "The present program will work if appropriations are made for it and we certainly need an extension of our present program."

Nebraska Farm Bureau President, Roland Nelson of Mead said his organization was not in favor of the present feed grains program but this did not mean that Farm Bureau was for crossing off all government programs.

Nelson noted that Farm Bureau has favored a farm program that would practice land retirement with competitive bidding by farmers on a voluntary basis, recourse loans made by private lending agencies that would be guaranteed by the government and more research and marketing studies for agriculture.

Farm Bureau has opposed direct payments for agriculture programs.

The National Farmers Organization (NFO) has led a national drive to encourage farmers to participate in the 1968 feed grains program. Nebraska NFO president William Sellhorst of Dodge was unavailable for comment.

Bien Hoa Airbase Shelled

. . . OTHER TARGETS AROUND SAIGON ALSO HIT

Saigon (AP)—Viet Cong gun squads shelled the big Bien Hoa airbase and other military targets around Saigon before dawn Wednesday. The attacks and reports of large enemy troop units in the area supported fears of another Red drive on South Vietnam's capital.

Fourteen persons were killed and 25 wounded when about 40 rounds of 122mm rockets slammed into the allied base at Bien Hoa, 15 miles north of Saigon, South Vietnamese officers said.

The Vietnamese said 25 rounds of 82mm mortars hit a government army unit nearby, wounding one soldier. In a third attack at Bien Hoa, government sources said, Red shells hit the headquarters of an American Special Forces unit.

Ian Son Nhut

One of the Communists' favorite targets, Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airbase, received two rocket rounds during the night. No casualties were reported and damage was described as negligible.

The South Vietnamese military school at Thu Duc, five miles northeast of the capital, was hit by 30 mortar rounds. Vietnamese headquarters said one man was killed and 11 wounded.

Three enemy rounds struck Newport, the U.S. military supply port on the Saigon River 1½ miles northeast of the city.

The U.S. 9th Infantry Division's headquarters 20 miles northeast of Saigon also was shelled. Four Americans were killed and nine wounded.

Fight On Island

One sharp fight was reported on a river island in Saigon's 9th police precinct. Heavy firing was heard and sources said allied troops were battling an estimated two platoons of Viet Cong.

The U.S. command said American Division units fought an enemy force for four hours Tuesday 350 miles northeast of Saigon, near the coastal province capital of Tam Ky. Two Americans were reported killed and 148 enemy bodies were found on the battlefield.

In the U.S. air offensive over North Vietnam, Navy fliers from the nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise struck Tuesday for the second time in three days at a major rail yard 1.7 miles from the center of Haiphong.

American infantrymen fought Viet Cong near Can Tho in the Mekong Delta Tuesday, while announcement that Communist armored vehicles had been intercepted closer to the city contributed to the capital's jitters.

Main Red Offensive In Laos Unchecked By Few Setbacks

Vientiane, Laos (UPI) — Royal Laotian troops supported by air strikes scored minor victories in attacks on Communist forces surrounding the provincial capitals of Saravane and Attopeu in southern Laos Monday, the Laotian defense ministry reported Tuesday.

But the main North Vietnamese-Pathet Lao offensive remained unchecked and fighting was reported continuing for control of strategic areas bordering on South Vietnam.

The current offensive, believed to involve at least 40,000 Communist troops, was regarded as serious in Washington and Bangkok as well as Vientiane. American officials said, however, they believed the campaign was designed to protect North Vietnamese supply lines into South Vietnam rather than any serious attempt to take over Laos.

In Saigon, informed sources said U.S. planes were bombing Communist positions in close support of Laotian troops. It was the first time American planes have given direct support to the Laotian army. Hitherto, U.S. air strikes were directed primarily at the maze of jungle tracks called the Ho Chi Minh Trail over which the Communists moved men and material through Laos into South Vietnam.

Driver Of Auto To Kill 1st Heart Donor Sentenced

Cape Town, South Africa (AP)—The driver of the automobile that killed the world's first human heart donor was sentenced Tuesday to two years' imprisonment after being found guilty of culpable homicide.

The court suspended one year of the sentence of Freidrich Andreas Prins, a 36-year-old police reservist, after the attorney representing the victims's father requested clemency.

Prins pleaded guilty and admitted he had been drinking the day his car fatally injured Denise Ann Darvall and her mother. The girls's heart was transplanted Dec. 3 to Louis Washkansky, who died 18 days later of pneumonia.

GIs Repel North Vietnamese West Of Dak To

(C) New York Times News Service

Saigon — North Vietnamese troops pushed a heavy assault to within a few yards of American bunkers west of Dak To Tuesday, but were repelled by U.S. infantrymen. Major fighting continued three miles west of Can Tho in the Mekong Delta, and there were attacks near Saigon. (More on Page 1)

Ships Get New Missile Defense

Washington — Pentagon sources disclosed that the Navy has begun installing a new defensive missile system to protect its ships against enemy aircraft and missiles. Some of the radar-homing missiles, which travel about four times the speed of sound, have been placed on the carrier Enterprise, and launchers also are planned for other carriers, cruisers and destroyers. (More on Page 24)

H-Bomb Flights Reviewed

Washington — The Defense Department said it was reviewing the military advantage of keeping airborne B52 bombers loaded with hydrogen bombs. The re-examination was prompted by the crash of such a bomber in Greenland last month. There is a question whether such flights are still necessary since the country's nuclear deterrent has shifted from bombers to missiles.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON ECHOES CHURCHILL . . .

More 'Blood, Sweat, Tears' Due In Vietnam

World News

Dallas (UPI) — President Johnson, making his first trip to Dallas since the Nov. 22, 1963, assassination of President Kennedy, promised the nation Tuesday more "blood, sweat and tears" in Vietnam.

In an echo of Winston Churchill's famous World War II speech, Johnson said:

"The enemy of freedom has chosen to make this year the decisive one. He is striking out in a desperate and vicious effort to shape the final outcome. So far, he has failed in his major objectives.

"There is a long road ahead. There will be blood, sweat and tears shed. The weak will drop from the lines, their feet sore and their voices loud."

Addresses NRECA

Johnson told the 26th annual meeting of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association that a recent report from Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam, showed that recent Communist casualties, including those of the lunar new year offensive, were 43,000 killed and 7,000 captured.

Johnson flew by Jetstar from his central Texas ranch, where he has been on a working vacation, and boarded Air Force 1 at Bergstrom Air Force Base near Austin for the flight to Dallas Love Field.

Security precautions were so tight that Dallas police had only two hours' notice of the trip and White House reporters did not know where they were going until just before they took off at Bergstrom.

Near Building

The motorcade route took him a few hundred yards from the Texas Schoolbook Depository Building, from which Lee Harvey Oswald shot Kennedy. There was no sign that Johnson took notice of the now-famous Dallas landmark and workers in the building were not even aware he was in the city.

"When did he go by?" building manager Roy Truly asked a reporter calling to see what the depository employes had been doing.

The President told the more than 10,000 NRECA delegates that peace will come to Vietnam if the American people show "no retreat from responsibility."

"Persevere we must," he said. "This can be a nation of greatness for all; if we work at it together; if we have the common will to rise above trial; if we have the unity to persevere in our great purpose — the work of peace."

Johnson said the Communist offensive against the cities has been met by "thousands of our courageous sons and millions of brave South Vietnamese.

" 'No retreat,' they have said. Free men will never bow to force and abandon their future to tyranny. That must be our answer, too," Johnson said.

Runoff Spot To Negro In Mississippi Election

Jackson, Miss. (AP)—Negro leader Charles Evers won a runoff spot against a white conservative Tuesday night in a special election for southwest Mississippi's congressional seat.

Running against six white opponents for the 3rd Congressional District seat, which was vacated when John Bell Williams became governor last month, Evers posed the first real Negro challenge of the century for a seat from this Deep South state.

Evers had 31% of the vote with an estimated 80% of the votes counted, with two white Democrats battling for the other spot.

Charles Griffin of Utica, who was on Williams' congressional staff, led State Sen. Ellis Bodron, Vicksburg, for the other spot in the runoff.

"All the Negroes voted for us," said Evers, "and I'm proud to say that many of the whites voted for us, too."

Federal election observers were on hand to watch the voting in the 12-county area.

British Immigration Bill OKd

London (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government bill to clamp restrictions on a flood of Asian immigrants from East Africa won approval by a wide majority in a House of Commons vote Tuesday night.

Despite emotional protests by members of all three main political parties over the measure, the vote was 372 to 62 on the second reading of the immigration bill.

As the house debated the measure in London, African police broke up an unruly crowd of Kenya Asians gathered at Nairobi airport to bid farewell to relatives flying off to Britain.

Rush Is On

Several aircraft were leaving Tuesday night carrying hundreds of Asians to Britain in time to beat the new immigration quota restrictions expected to be imposed Thursday. Anti-British slogans were chanted by some of the crowd and police were called in when they threatened to break through barriers into the airport.

The new legislation, although it still has to go to committee for study and a third reading, is virtually certain of becoming law.

With Asians arriving at London airport from Kenya in an increasing flow of hundreds a day, Wilson stepped in and introduced the new law which seeks to stem the flow to 1,500 a year.

The decision, termed Draconian by some leftwingers and liberals, brought a stream of protests.

The Asians coming in were holders of British passports granted when Kenya became independent from British rule.

Fending off charges of racism, Home Secretary James Callaghan said in the Commons debate that the bill to limit the current flow of Asians from Kenya would deal in the long run with a million nonwhites in former British colonies who might want to settle in Britain.

The bill enables the government to set a yearly immigration quota of 1,500 for British citizens who were not born in Britain and whose parents, though citizens, were not either. Critics say the proposal has the effect of distinguishing between white and nonwhite holders of British passports.

Thousands of Asian residents of Kenya have fled the former British colony because its government, pressing an Africanization program, has denied them work and business permits.

Callaghan said it would be "wild exaggeration to refer to this legislation as racialist." But he added that the government "must face the fact" that a million members of minority groups in former British colonies could use their British passports to settle here.

Labor had wide Conservative support, although three of its own backbenchers proposed amendments to kill the bill. They were passed over by the Commons speaker who said they had insufficient support to merit a vote.

With passage at a second reading, the bill will have to clear the routine third reading vote, the House of Lords and then receive royal assent before becoming law. Labor leaders said they could push this through by Thursday.

Civil Rights Bill Backed By Dirksen

© New York Times Service

Washington — The Senate minority leader, Everett McKinley Dirksen, threw his support Tuesday behind a compromise civil rights bill that embraces strong open housing provisions.

Senate liberals, blocked from action for nearly six weeks, were jubilant.

With Dirksen's support they now feel confident of Senate passage of a far-reaching civil rights measure, possibly next week.

The compromise was hammered out after days of negotiations between the Dirksen forces on one hand and and Senate liberals and Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark on the other.

Dirksen declined to give details of the compromise, which covers both open housing and federal protection for Negroes and civil rights workers.

However, from other sources it was learned that the bill would bar homeowners from instructing real estate workers or other agents to discriminate in the sale of housing.

The homeowner, if he handled the sale himself, could refuse to sell to Negroes or other minority groups. However, he would be prohibited from citing such terms of discrimination in advertisements or handbills.

Importance Of Soil Tillage Told

Operation Is Big Challenge To Farmers

. . . Says Agronomist

"One of the biggest challenges facing the farmer today is the mountain of soil he moves in primary and secondary tillage operations," a U.S. Department of Agriculture agronomist told those attending a conservation tillage workshop here Tuesday.

Joseph W. Turelle of Upper Darby, Pa., said tillage of the soil is the greatest consumer of power in the production of crops in the U.S. today, requiring about one-third of all energy generated on a farm.

The Soil Conservation Service specialist cited one study which shows that a farmer in the southern Great Plains area moves up to 30 tons of soil per acre under normal cotton farming practices.

"Tillage, at this time an art, may some day become a science," he predicted. "This will only come about," he said, "when agriculturists can create soil conditions needed for crop production in a given soil under a given climate."

Outlines Future

He outlined these probable future developments in tillage for some 75 scientists and others attending the three day workshop, sponsored by the Great Plains Agricultural Council:

More efficient crop species and plant nutrients, seedbeds consisting only of seed row zones, greater plant populations, narrower rows, more crop residues and improved management of these residues, increased horsepower in tractors, flotation tires, weather modifications, artificial soil warming, air-borne agricultural equipment, manmade subsoil barriers, such as asphalt paving; greater use of flame cultivation and changes in tillage tools that emphasize more rotary and vibrating principles.

Along with these changes, he added, will come complete or near-complete abolishment of summer fallow.

He noted the relationship of tillage systems to pollution of streams. While not all soil that blows or washes away in the Great Plains reaches a stream, "we cannot escape the sad fact that the major pollutant to streams and rivers in the Great Plains is soil out of place," he said.

Sheep Shearing School Held

The 1963 national sheep shearing champion, Bob Welch, demonstrated proper shearing techniques at a two-day University of Nebraska sheep shearing school. He is shown here with a 170-pound Cordiedal ewe during shearing. Twenty-two Nebraska sheepmen attended the school.

Pfc. Johnson Of Grand Island Being Air Evacuated To U.S.

Washington (AP) — A young Nebraskan who the Marine Corps, by mistake, reported dead is being air evacuated from Japan to the United States for treatment of his wounds.

Sen. Carl Curtis of Nebraska said Tuesday the Marine Corps had advised him that Grand Island would be taken Pfc. Michael Johnson of to the Oak Knoll Naval Hospital at Oakland, Calif., for about two weeks. He then is to be given leave to visit his Grand Island home.

Curtis said because of the relative shortness of time that Johnson will have to be hospitalized, officials thought it best to send him to Oakland rather than a hospital nearer home. The senator said it was felt that Johnson could get better treatment at Oakland.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Johnson of Grand Island, were notified their son had been killed in Vietnam. However, the error was discovered and Curtis said young Johnson was found to be alive in an Army hospital in Japan.

Curtis said Johnson was in "good condition" Tuesday and his "spirits are good."

Louisville, Lyons NU Ag Students Receive Awards

Two holders of animal science fellowships were honored Tuesday at the luncheon meeting of the Nebraska Feed and Nutrition Conference.

They are Gene Wehrbein of Louisville, a graduate student, and Richard Preston of Lyons, a senior.

Wehrbein, first to receive the newly-established Russell E. Kendall Award of $300, donated by Nixon and Co. of Omaha, was presented a plaque by Kendall, an animal nutritionist for the feed manufacturing firm.

Wehrbein was chosen for the honor on the basis of promise of leadership and academic ability in the field of animal science. A 1967 graduate of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, he is working on a Master of Science degree.

Preston, winner of the $500 Ralston-Purina award, was presented his recognition plaque by Don Kuhn of Lincoln, local representative of Ralston-Purina.

He won the award on the basis of scholarship and promise of leadership. One of the conditions is that he return to farming, which he plans to do on the home farm near Lyons.

'Vision 20-20' Project Eyed In Panhandle

Scottsbluff (AP) — A regional industrial development program similar to the "Vision 17" project already under way in southeast Nebraska, was envisioned Tuesday in a meeting in Scottsbluff.

They're talking about calling it "Vision 20-20" after expanding the projected territory from the 11 Nebraska Panhandle counties to encompass the 20 counties now included in the Western Nebraska United Chambers of Commerce.

At Tuesday's meeting representatives of eight communities discussed the potential with Jim Monroe, director of the Nebraska Department of Economic Development, and Dave Carson of Northern Systems, Inc., Omaha, which developed the program now under way in the 17 southeast Nebraska counties.

The group referred the proposal to the WNUCC, asking its president, Jack Pollock of Ogallala, to call a special meeting of the WNUCC executive board to consider three alternatives.

One is for the WNUCC to take over the program; a second is to have a member of the Department of Economic Development staff hired to devote his time to western Nebraska; and a third is to have Northern Systems develop the project.

No Need Seen For Revising Water Laws

Holdrege (AP) — A Hastings man told a Legislative Council hearing here Tuesday he sees no need to revise present laws that give agriculture preference over industry in use of water.

Allen Hoffman, manager of Farmland Industries, said he has found that industry encounters no difficulty in securing water for its use. There has been speculation efforts will be made at the 1969 legislative session to revise the law.

Hoffman was one of a series of witnesses who testified at the hearing on drainage problems and future development and use of ground waters.

Sen. Maurice Kremer of Aurora, presided at the one-day hearing attended by about 100 persons from across south central Nebraska.

Warren Fairchild of the State Soil and Water Conservation Commission discussed the state water plan and how the commission plans to implement it.

Drainage Problems Told

Vince Dreezan of the Water Resources Council pointed out problems of drainage at ground level.

Ted Johnson, engineer for the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District at Holdrege, reviewed his group's efforts to get a representative on the technical committee of the State Water Plan. He said his group has been authorized to study how it might broaden the district's water functions to include more than just irrigation.

Mrs. Galbraith Christens Vessel American Legion

Chester, Pa. (AP) — The SS American Legion, a freight vessel joining the United States Lines Atlantic service this year, was christened Tuesday at the Sun Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Co.

Mrs. William E. Galbraith of Beemer, Neb., wife of American Legion national commander, christened the 700-foot long vessel, which will have a displacement of 27,500 tons.

Galbraith said in a speech at the ceremony that the Legion supports an orderly and adequate vessel replacement program to prevent the U.S. merchant fleet from becoming obsolete. He urged support for a pending congressional bill as a major step in securing a modern fleet

City Tree Trimming Rotation To Speed Up, Forester Says

A reduction in the tree trimming rotation from ten years to six starting this year will result in a more efficient pruning operation, according to City Forester Emilio Fontana.

He explained that for trimming purposes, the city is divided into 10 districts and that up until now city crews have covered one district each year.

Now that fulltime crews are in use, "We'll try to get one and two-thirds areas this year," Fontana said.

"A six-year rotation does not give us as much trouble—we can go much faster because we are working on smaller limbs."

Fontana noted that his crews are not trimming trees on city property along Adams St. in the 48th St. area—for the first time in about ten years.

Several large, soft-wooded silver maple trees have been removed, he said, because they are "in bad condition and are hazardous in windy weather."

The maples will be replaced by a stronger variety, according to Fontana.

W. Beretta, State Capitol Sculptor, Dies

New York (AP) — Walter Beretta, 59, a sculptor who was responsible for the maintenance of more than 700 statues in the five boroughs of New York, died Monday of cancer.

Beretta, monuments officer for the City Park Department since it was set up in 1934, has said he was "responsible for more statues than any other man in the world."

Beretta executed a bust of Shakespeare for Shakespeare Garden in Central Park and did a granite statute of Mother Goose for a playground near 76th St. and Fifth Ave.

He was born in Montpelier, Vt., the son of August Beretta, who carved the stone lions in front of the main building of the New York Public Library.

The son studied sculpture at the Royal Academy in Massae Carrera province in Italy and attended Nebraska State College, where he played football. He worked on stone sculpture for the Nebraska Capitol in Lincoln and the Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York.

Beretta served in the infantry during World War II in Africa and Europe. He won the Silver Star, the Bronze Star, two Purple Hearts and two presidential citations.

Summary of Conditions

A weak cold front has developed in the area and is presently located from the east central portion of Iowa westward into central Nebraska and south central Montana. This front will move well to the south of the area Wednesday morning as a rapid moving Arctic front, now in Canada just north of the Minnesota-North Dakota border, drops across the state. The Arctic front will be located from northeast Illinois southwestward into northern Kansas and into central Wyoming by Wednesday morning.

With the cold front in the area, followed by the Arctic front, skies over the state will be generally cloudy Wednesday and partly cloudy Wednesday night and Thursday. A little light rain or snow is expeced over most of the state Wednesday. Temperatures are expected to be colder Wednesday and remain cool Thursday.

Extended Forecasts

NEBRASKA: Temperatures for the five-day period, Thursday through Monday, will average near normal except about 2 to 5 degrees below normal in the southeast. Highs are normally 38 to 42 in the north and 43 to 46 in the south. Lows normally range from 17 to 20 in the central and northeast and 20 to 24 in the southeast. Temperatures will be normal at the start of the period with a slow warming trend and then cooling late in the period. No precipitation of importance is indicated.

KANSAS: For the five-day period, Thursday through Monday, temperatures will average near normal in the northwest and 3 to 7 degrees below normal in the southeast. Highs are normally 47 to 52 and lows near 20 in the northwest and 26 to 30 in the east and south. Temperatures will be below normal at the start of the period with warming indicated by mid-period and cooling late in the period. Precipitation will be generally less than one-tenth inch in the extreme east and in the extreme southwest as showers about mid-period. Elsewhere none is expected.

During 1967, its 77th year, Woodmen Accident and Life Company achieved new records in service rendered to policyowners, benefits paid, income earned, insurance in force and admitted assets. Since its organization in 1890, the Company has paid more than $130,000,000 to policyowners and beneficiaries of life and health insurance contracts.

Operating results in 1967 were very satisfactory because of improving investment yields, favorable mortality experience and conservative expense ratios. This made possible a continuation of the payment of liberal dividends on participating contracts of life insurance. Full advantage has been taken by the Company of modern, cost-cutting methods. Further operating economies will be achieved with the planned installation of a "third-generation" electronic computer in mid-1968. The new System/360 will permit Woodmen Accident and Life Company to provide an advanced type of financial service to its insureds.

The Company is proud of its continuing contribution to the economy of Lincoln and all of the 29 states in which it operates. Its home office payroll exceeds $1,675,000 annually. In 1967 it purchased goods and services from Lincoln businesses amounting to $580,000. Federal, state and local taxes paid by the company in 1967 totaled $1,035,000. The Company's assets, exceeding $73,000,000, while held in trust for policyowners, are productively invested in a wide variety of securities and mortgages. These insurance funds have helped hundreds of families to acquire their own homes and have stimulated local industrial growth.

Woodmen Accident and Life Company, a Nebraska institution since its establishment in 1890, appreciates the support and patronage it has received from Nebraska people and pledges itself to their service.

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Important decisions and actions were taken by the Lincoln City Council this week, one in the field of finances and one in the area of public power. First, to power.

In answer to a question from Councilwoman Mrs. Helen Boosalis, Public Utilities Director Lee Blocker said a proposed merger between Omaha Public Power District and Norris Public Power District "makes no difference with us.

"We're going to be surrounded by someone — the critical thing is, how well we do inside our area."

This is certainly a short-sighted attitude that demonstrates a lack of understanding of many things.

★

Does Blocker not realize the importance of an electric service area when it comes to future growth and does he not recognize the difference between OPPD and Norris?

Once OPPD was merged with Norris, Lincoln would be effectively cut off from further expansion of its electric service area. OPPD could promote and obtain industrial and residential expansion on Lincoln's doorstep and Lincoln could do nothing about it.

Such a stalemate in electrical growth would undoubtedly have an effect upon annexation, possibly subjecting Lincoln to the kind of geographic limitations that have strangled other cities from time to time. We have been able to avoid this in the past but not without a struggle and not without foresight.

Also, without a load growth area in which to expand, the city can anticipate no economy improvements as a result of additional customers. With the OPPD and Norris merger, the former could be enjoying lower power rates because of expansion actually lying much closer to Lincoln than Omaha.

★

We have no idea how serious OPPD is. It is possible that the whole matter is an effort on the part of Norris to stimulate Lincoln into entering into some form of final disposition of service areas for the respective agencies.

It would seem inadvisable to OPPD from some points of view to merge with Norris. This would subject OPPD to election of its directors on a statewide basis, which it fought even to the extent of giving up some customers not very long ago.

Nor do we pretend to know the answer from Lincoln's point of view. We would not want to merge with Norris any more than it would seem that Omaha would want to do so.

This would make us a public power rather than a municipal agency and have us operating clear to the Kansas border and much farther west than we prefer. But to say that Lincoln has no interest in the matter is to bury your head in the sand.

★

On finances, the City Council made official the anticipated May 14 election to change Lincoln's tax levy limitation. In place of the current limit based on property valuations no longer in existence, we would have a limit permitting an annual seven per cent growth in expenditures.

If voters turn down the new and different limit, it would be sheer disaster. Under those conditions, city tax expenditures could well be cut in half.

The taxpayer would enjoy a nice reduction in his tax bill but he would pay dearly for it. Every agency of city government would be decimated without this change and every public program now operating would be mutilated.

A dramatic cutback in street work, street lighting, parks, police and fire protection, library facilities, sewer improvements, health and building code enforcement and other activities would immediately ensue upon defeat of this change. Under those conditions, we would face a real emergency about which we could do absolutely nothing.

No more important matter ever has or ever will be decided by the voters of the city.

RUSSELL BAKER

Rousing Rally For Lethargic Gotham

NEW YORK—The inhabitants of New York City are undoubtedly the most tolerant citizens of the Western world.

Everybody knows about the New York phenomenon called "The Strike of the Week," in which the unions take turns at stopping some vital service. The odd thing is not that these strikes occur but that New Yorkers accept the resultant inconvenience passively as an inevitable burden of the human condition.

When Mayor Lindsay proposed to use troops to collect the garbage, organized labor, which represents a lot of New Yorkers, countered with the threat of a general strike. Death by garbage, these New Yorkers were saying, is preferable to loss of the right to inflict and endure incessant inconvenience.

And now that the garbage is being collected again, it seems possible that they had a point. In one crosstown street the other morning it was collected at 5:55 a.m.

From an eighth-floor bedroom it seemed at first that a gigantic noisemaking machine had been placed just outside the window. Like some grotesque vacuum cleaner, it roared and whined off and on for 40 minutes while the entire building vibrated.

Outraged citizens did not pour into the streets in pajamas to mob the garbage men. No one even threw an empty bottle at them. In London they would have been arrested. In Paris they would have been bloodied. In Washington they would have been denounced in the Senate by Wayne Morse. Not in New York. New Yorkers will take anything.

New Yorkers will come across with real money to see the Mets play imitation baseball. New Yorkers will stand in a line to get into a movie. New Yorkers will stand in Times Square on New Year's Eve so that the rest of the country can have a mob scene to glance at for a moment on television.

New Yorkers will write for theater tickets and not complain when tickets arrive for a performance three months in the future.

There is a typical New York sign on the wall of a Sixth Avenue coffee shop. "Please leave promptly upon completion of your meal," it urges. "Loitering is punishable by law." New Yorkers eat in this coffee shop and probably clear out fast.

In brief, New Yorkers let themselves be bullied, hustled along and pushed around more docilely than any other group of urban citizens outside the Orient.

Thomas Hoving, when he was parks commissioner, struck a blow for people when he detoured New York traffic out of Central Park on weekends. The automobile, he reasoned, is a blessing only so long as it serves man. When it asserts the right of sovereignty over man, it is time to slap it down.

The same principle applies to garbage collection. When it occurs at 6 a.m., it is time for men to take to the streets in anger. In fact, the hour has struck all over New York. It is time to quit cheering the Mets for losing. It is time to linger an hour over coffee in restaurants that affront the individual with rude signs, and then invite the management to make something of it.

Water Management A Must

It is encouraging to see the concern expressed over Nebraska's future water supply. The concern was obvious at a meeting of the Legislative Council of the Legislature with the State Soil and Water Conservation Commission and other interested parties.

Nebraska probably has a false sense of security in regard to water, believing there to be an inexhaustible supply. Such is not the case, as pointed out by one public power official who noted that developments on the Loup River could adversely affect various downtown interests, including the city of Lincoln's interest in its Ashland well field.

And mention was made, of course, of two major problems — water priorities and water diversion. The first takes into account the conflicting interest of municipalities, agriculture, industry and recreation and wildlife. Obviously, the latter two are going to remain last and probably industry will remain in third place.

But the conflict for water rights between municipalities and agriculture is a keen one and will become more severe. The same thing will happen over diversion, the transporting of water from one watershed to another for maximum efficiency of use.

The conservation commission will not be at all premature in providing a comprehensive state water plan in the summer of 1971. We have not experienced serious water difficulties to date but without proper planning and intelligent use, we can be sure that problems will plague us in the future. We have sufficient water only if we use it wisely.

'Disregard For Life' A Myth

With the possible exception of his "last" press conference, Richard M. Nixon has never been one of those politicians who puts his foot in his mouth. He handles himself well most of the time, and chances are that no slip-of-the-tongue, like that of Gov. George Romney's when he admitted to being brainwashed, will ever destroy Nixon as it seems to have destroyed Romney.

But in an interview in Wisconsin recently, Nixon made a statement which, while it won't cost him the election, certainly makes one wonder about his storied knowledge of foreign affairs. The interviewer asked Nixon whether the U.S. should try to outlast Asiatic patience in Vietnam. "No," said Nixon. "This nation cannot tolerate a long war. The Asians have no respect for human life. They don't care about body counts, whether the count is nine or 10 to one against them."

And that is a lot of nonsense.

Of course the Asians care about human life. To say they do not is to renew a World War II myth, the myth that Japanese soldiers were automatons, going to their death without sorrow for themselves or from their loved ones. The war is just as painful for an Asian as it is for an American. Nixon adds nothing to the situation by continuing false myths.

A few months ago we were forced to watch the country momentarily caught up in the old business of "yellow peril." Even the erudite New York Times writer, James Reston, fell for it — and then corrected himself in a later column.

The Asian disregard for life is the creation of American propaganda-makers with a dim understanding of Orientals. Nixon apparently has fallen for the propaganda.

DREW PEARSON

Confidence In President Thieu Is Ebbing; Criticism That He Talks Much, Does Little

Saigon — Angry resentment is boiling up here against President Nguyen Van Thieu who, less than six months after his election, is in deep political trouble. The betting in this coup-conscious country is that he will never finish his four-year term.

The muttering against Thieu has been heightened by the jarry Viet Cong attacks on several key South Vietnamese cities right under the nose of his government. But there is also growing disillusion over his failure to carry out social reforms. The anti-Thieu talk comes from four general sources:

1. The young Turks in the South Vietnamese army, most of them officers of middle rank, are restive under the leadership of commanders who [illegible] selected more for their political connections than their military ability.

2. The public also has become increasingly cynical over Thieu's failure to clean up corruption and introduce reforms.

3. American Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker has pressed President Thieu to adopt a socio-political program that will present the Vietnamese people with an alternative to the revolution offered by the communists. But the results have been discouraging.

4. Thieu has also lost the respect of other Asian leaders.

☆ ☆ ☆

South Vietnam's officialdom increasingly is choosing sides between President Thieu and Vice President Ky. As front man for the four warlords, Thieu has become the defender of the present order. He gives lip service to reforms but never puts them into effect.

Inevitably, the top Americans in South Vietnam have become drawn into the feud. The American generals, having developed a close working relationship with the South Vietnamese generals, side with the Thieu clique. Behind the scenes, they have helped to sabotage reforms, particularly reforms that would alter the South Vietnamese military structure and curb the four warlords.

The U.S. generals, for example, are suspicious of Ky's efforts to shake up the South Vietnamese army. They are responsible, after all, for organizing and training the South Vietnamese army along conventional lines. Ky and the reformers contend that the army should be overhauled and whipped into a mobile, swift-striking, counter-insurgency force.

☆ ☆ ☆

However, several top civilians in General William Westmoreland's command vigorously agree with the reformers. They point out that a conventional army, following the tactics taught at West Point, has been unable to cope with the elusive guerrilla style of warfare.

"We have assembled more firepower in Vietnam," one contended, "than we used to crush Germany in World War II. Yet the Viet Cong slipped around our great military compounds, crept in the back door, shot up Saigon and, for a few hours, occupied part of the American embassy."

This was evidence, he suggested, that we are "fighting the wrong war at the wrong time in the wrong place." He pleaded that mobility was more important than firepower in seeking out and destroying the guerrillas.

Defending the conventional strategy, a general insisted to this column that a small group of desperate men can shoot up any capital in the world, including Washington. This would not mean, he argued, that they could conquer the United States. It is more important to hold the centers and control the transportation. This takes a conventional military force, he said. He also contended that North Vietnam, not the ragtag Viet Cong guerrillas, poses the greatest threat to South Vietnam. Again, a conventional army is needed to hold off a possible invasion.

Involvement

Lincoln, Neb.

Incredible though it may seem, especially to the troops in Vietnam, there is an enemy of this nation potentially more dangerous than "Charlie." Such an enemy is not to be found on any foreign battlefield, but right on our own territory.

Believe it or not, a car full of belligerent and boisterous good-for-nothings, or, far worse, a pair of thugs intent upon breaking into someone's home can present more problems than a whole company of North Vietnamese regulars.

First, because of our tradition of domestic tranquility, recent events to the contrary, the average American citizen just does not travel about armed to the teeth, expecting to be insulted, robbed, beaten or killed. He is therefore thoroughly unprepared for a blitzkrieg from a band of hoodlums who might suddenly leap from a passing vehicle to assault him.

Second, such psychotic or just plain ornery characters cannot be watched all the time; neither can they be apprehended by law-enforcement personnel until a public law has been actually violated.

Third, and perhaps most important, is the fact that this violent breed of lawbreakers is not motivated by a stable ideology, but by the mere whim of depravity. At least a Viet Cong soldier or a North Vietnamese regular or even an infantryman of Red China is motivated to despise the United States by a tangible and stable political system. We know that the VC hate us; we know that they will shoot to kill all the U.S. Marines they can.

But it appears that the loosely assorted crowd of upstarts of whom we have heard a great deal recently are prompted to commit their various atrocities by an urge that descends on them suddenly and inexplicably. Such people become so treacherous that they resemble tornadoes which strike, it seems, in just any old place.

The only organized forces available to combat such delinquents belong to local law-enforcement agencies, duly established by the state and federal constitutions. Yet they can act only on the complaints and reports of members of the community involving acts of vandalism and assault. Despite recent charges leveled against the Lincoln police chief, there are yet officers who are devoted to upholding the laws providing for peace in the homeland; witness the service rendered by the late Officer Welter.

It should stand to reason, then, that a community seeking self-preservation from amateur terrorist activities should lend an active, cooperative hand in its own defenses, rather than adopt the typical East European practice of "not getting involved."

Mrs. Wehrmeister

Lincoln, Neb.

I would like to ask the patrons of Bethany Branch Library who are unhappy with the removal of Mrs. Wehrmeister to please write or call Mr. Dalyrmple and protest our loss.

"Sammy" has done an outstanding job for three years. She is the reason Bethany Branch now has the largest circulation in the city. Good service is what builds a library's circulation, not population increase. In view of all she has accomplished, I feel that if Mr. Dalrymple could overlook the rules on educational requirements for three years, he can continue to do so. Hard work and results should count for something.

Mrs. Wehrmeister has given us the finest service Bethany has ever had and I hope others will join me in requesting that she be allowed to continue to do so.

MARQUIS CHILDS

McCarthy Follows A Lonely Road

WASHINGTON — His official campaign poster shows Sen. Eugene McCarthy pointing toward heaven with a benign smile on his face. This beatific posture, so unlike the traditional portrait registering challenge, aggression, the finger thrust out at the wavering voter, is typical both of the man and the campaign for the presidency in which he has involved himself.

It was, above all, his moral concern for what he believes is the immorality of the Vietnam war that led him down a path strewn with obstacles and with small hope of reward at the end. His mentors are Thomas More, the medieval philosopher, St. Augustine and Thomas Aquinas. And if at times another worldly outlook clouds his day-to-day relations, it is because of his abiding conviction that the great moralists of the past are immediate and relevant to the present.

There is nothing at all solemn about this. His wry humor is a trademark although he often throws away his witty lines by an indifferent delivery. His style has been called diffident, monotonous, uninspiring. The inhibiting factor is perhaps a natural modesty, an unusual quality in a politician campaigning for high office.

Complementing the moral-theological background acquired at St. John's University in Collegeville, Minn., and the University of Minnesota is the family tie that with his wife, Abigail, and their four children is exceptionally close. His 18-year-old daughter, Mary, a sophomore at Radcliffe, left school to devote full time to working for her father.

She organized a Harvard-Radcliffe students-for-McCarthy club before she took to the campaign trail. But she says that if her father came to speak on the campus, the left — Students for a Democratic Society — would probably demonstrate against him. That is a measure of the dilemma of this deeply concerned moralist whose conscience, whatever the final outcome, would not let him stand aside without giving the voters a chance to express their dissent from the Johnson policy.

But his reasoned criticism of the folly of the Vietnam war does not satisfy the bitter-enders among the young. They want a tiger who will demand immediate withdrawal and resistance to the war by any and all means. Their heroes are the draft-resisters and Dr. Spock. McCarthy calls for an end to the bombing of the North, an end to the search-and-destroy policy on the ground, and a determined effort to negotiate a way out.

One of McCarthy's heroes was the late Adlai Stevenson, who said of him, "There is no more eloquent representative of what is good in American life." That eloquence was evident when McCarthy placed Stevenson's name in nomination at the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles in 1960. It was the last hurrah for the Stevensonites. For McCarthy it was a tactical error, since the Kennedy task force was out to control the convention with a first-ballot nomination. With their elephant memory, the Kennedys would not forget the scare over the brief Stevenson flurry on the convention floor.

At the Democratic convention in Atlantic City four years later, McCarthy was again the center of a drama that fizzled. He had been led to believe, as Johnson played a cat-and-mouse game with the vice presidential nomination, that he might be tapped. In the McCarthy suite, the tension was such that you could cut it with a knife. McCarthy's Minnesota colleague, Hubert H. Humphrey, got the nod when the White House finished shuffling the deck.

His disappointment, some observers suggest, led him to seek revenge. Those who know him most intimately, however, say that revenge is furthest from the McCarthy motivation. In any objective view, and certainly as seen by the Johnson administration, his candidacy hardly qualifies as formidable revenge. While it is an embarrasment, Johnson strategists are confident McCarthy will not take a single primary and in most will make only a token showing.

It is in Wisconsin, his neighbor state with a long liberal tradition centered in the Democratic party, that the senator puts his best hope for an upset. There and in New Hampshire he is currently concentrating his search for fellow dissenters.

The road is a lonely one. None of the doveish Democrats in the Senate has given him support. He takes this philosophically, noting that they are almost all up for re-election and must therefore consider the hazards of divided loyalties.

Money is a pressing need. Most of it, according to McCarthy, came in voluntary contributions in the first six to eight weeks, averaging $2,000 a day. That has now slacked off. And running a national campaign takes large sums along with moral dedication and unflagging stamina.

Ed Board Hesitant To Alter Grading

. . . NO ACTION TAKEN

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln Board of Education members Tuesday generally indicated that they favored using the computer to prepare grade reports for secondary students but expressed doubts about changing to quarterly reporting.

The school board took no action on the recommendation of principals to change from a six-week to a nine-week grading cycle.

Supt. John Prasch urged the board not to make a decision immediately, noting that the "public concern over a rather minor recommendation" is a "sympton of a larger kind of problem."

'Misplaced Emphasis'

The problem, he declared, is "overemphasis or misplaced emphasis on grades."

Nine weeks' grading, as is done in the elementary level, fits into the total pattern of records and reporting in the schools, furnishes more accurate and more usable records and reduces the amount of time required of teachers on the clerical tasks of preparing grade reports, explained Asst. Supt. Dr. R. L. Fredstrom.

With teachers spending less time in preparation of grade reports, they would have time for much more meaningful communication with parents, Prasch pointed out.

The prposed grading system change would require midquarter reports to parents of students who are failing or near failing or are not working up to or near their ability.

'Stifles Innovation'

The superintendent declared that "grading kids at regular intervals is questionable in itself. It stands in the way . . . and stifles innovation.

"We say we are going to educate all children, yet our grading system forces some out of school," he said.

Calling for a re-education of the public, Prasch told board members that "grades give parents a false sense of security," as evidenced by the number of complaints when the possibility of diminishing the number of grade reports was raised.

"Parents ought to be more concerned about the accuracy of grades and their meaning," he emphasized.

Terming class rankings and honor rolls as "nonsense" because they equate a grade in one subject with a grade in another course, Prasch compare the production of one child with the production of another.

'Kidding Ourselves'

"If we believe the grading system is a motivator to students, we're kidding ourselves."

Mrs. Donald Hipple, president of the Lincoln Area Council PTA reported that quarterly grade reporting was resisted at first by a small group of parents who were given an explanation of the proposed changes.

However, she indicated, the idea found more favor among the men and women the longer it was discussed.

Guidance Polled

The superintendent also reported briefly on an informal poll of principals' responses concerning the guidance program. He said the poll was an attempt to determine points of consensus and issues as he prepares to make a recommendation to the board on continuing, dropping or expanding elementary guidance.

The district has sponsored a three-year project, financed by the State Department of Education, to determine what kind of training an elementary guidance counselor should have.

It is "not a question of being for or against guidance," he pointed out. "The problem is deciding how to allocate the money and resources the district has."

Conclusions Related

Some general conclusions Prasch related about the principals' opinions included:

—Guidance counselors are the third most desirable supportive staff in a school, after clerks and librarians.

—a reduction in class size of 10%, the current percentage of supportive staff, would jot eliminate the need for guidance services.

—Guidance is good, even in small quantities. The overall guidance program would not necessarily fail if it could not be expanded.

—Personality is more important than training for the effective guidance worker.

—Guidance workers should not be paid more than teachers.

—Guidance workers should be fulltime, not also parttime teachers.

In other action Tuesday the board accepted the third low bid of $1,194 for 50 stenographic chairs and $678 for 30 typewriter stands from Fremont Office Equipment.

The two lower bids were on chairs "considered unsafe" due to construction.

New Draft Regulations Cause Problems At NU Law School

The dean of the University of Nebraska law school is faced with "enough to keep you having nightmares." Henry Grether said Tuesday there is a possibility he could lose four of his 12 faculty members under new draft regulations.

That compounds the problem of determining how many students will be on hand next fall since under new Selective Service rules deferments to graduate students will be cut down.

"I've talked to a lot of deans and the whole thing is very disconcerting," Grether said. "If I hire faculty for more people than we have, that's bad. And if I hire more faculty than we need, that's bad, too."

The law college is composed almost entirely of males, a number of which are exempt through ROTC programs, Grether said.

But he points to the "psychological impact" of applicants who could decide to fulfill their military obligations before starting law school studies.

"How many apply and are accepted but then don't show up, that's the question," Grether said.

The school, which has doubled its enrollment since 1960 without increasing the size of the faculty, now has 282 students — 130 freshmen, 88 juniors and 74 seniors.

Grether said the ones he thinks will be involved with the draft under the new rules are the current freshmen. He said he thinks seniors next year will be exempt since they will have completed two years of study.

"But my main concern is losing the faculty and not being able to teach them," he said.

Voluntary Agencies Must Be Ready To Change—Nummela

Voluntary agencies must spearhead efforts to provide the necessary social services in today's changing world, according to Leslie Nummela, executive director of Family and Child Service in Omaha.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Lincoln Family Service Association Tuesday evening, Nummela said, "Volunteer agencies are on the way out if they are not ready to change. We all need to look at ourselves, our programs and our services."

Be More Innovative

The change, Nummela said, will come when volunteer agencies become even more innovative than they already are.

For instance, adult basic education programs are "no longer a stigma," Nummela said. Other programs can teach the underprivileged how to make a palatable meal out of surplus commodities or can provide tutoring to school children.

Nummela said that representatives of the underprivileged groups are now sitting on volunteer agency boards. He also urged a greater merging of federal aid funds with volunteer contributions.

Racial Unrest Growing

The volunteer agency, Nummela said, cannot remain in its traditional role in a society faced with new problems and growing unrest from the non-white population.

"Today we are living in a restless society where racial equality and civil rights are the main concern," Nummela said. The non-whites "have come into their own and they are militant and they are speaking out."

Charles E. Oldfather was elected to succeed Mrs. Louis W. Hurst as president of the board of directors of the Lincoln Family Service. Other officers named were Dr. Norman C. Carlson, vice president; Herman D. Brice, treasurer, and Mrs. Walter French Jr., secretary.

Hearing Slated On Rape Charge

A man was charged Tuesday in Lancaster County Court with rape in connection with a Jan. 16 offense involving an 18-year-old Lincoln girl.

A preliminary hearing for Leonard Franklin was set for March 11 by Judge Ralph Slocum, who set bond at $3,000.

Police said Franklin was arrested Monday evening at 25th and O Sts. by officers making a routine check.

Two Lincoln Students Get Youth Awards

Two Lincoln Northeast High School seniors and their parents were honored Tuesday night at a dinner of the Gateway Sertoma Club.

Receiving the club's annual Youth Service Awards were Nancy Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul V. Armstrong, and Brian Heacock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Heacock.

The awards are presented to young people who demonstrate outstanding leadership and community service. Other nominees were: Roy Elliott and Rita Jacobs of East High, John Madison and Mary McKelvey of Lincoln High and Mary Tidball of Southeast High.

Nancy is an honor student and Regents alternate and was a 1967 delegate to Girl's State. Heacock, also an honor student, was the recipient of the Elks Leadership Award and was last year's Boy's State governor.

Judges for the Sertoma award were Mrs. Ethel Johnson, dean of women at Nebraska Wesleyan; Lancaster County Juvenile Court Judge W. W. Nuernberger and the Rev. Thomas C. Huxtable, pastor of Eastridge Presbyterian Church.

Woman Charged With Pandering

A Lincoln woman was charged Tuesday in Lancaster County Court with pandering in connection with an incident Friday in which she allegedly received money for procuring another woman.

Billie Jean Edmonson, 2245 T, waived preliminary hearing on the felony charge and was bound over to District Court. Judge Ralph Slocum set bond at $1,000.

The Edmonson woman was arrested at her home Monday by Lincoln detectives after they had obtained a warrant for her arrest on the charge.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 ♠	1 NT	Pass	3 NT

Opening lead — six of hearts.

There is a vast difference between playing bridge looking at only the 13 cards dealt you, and playing bridge looking at all 52 cards, as seen in a diagram.

It is surely reasonable and fair to hold a player responsible for what he is expected to know and think under normal playing conditions, but not for the superior knowledge he could obtain from seeing all four hands.

Nonetheless, in many deals a player is supposed to play as though he sees all 52 cards. Bridge, being essentially a game of logic, permits a skilled performer to bid and play many hands as though all cards were exposed.

For example, consider this hand where South gets to three notrump after East opens the bidding with a spade. West leads a heart, won by East with the ace, and East returns a heart, won by South with the king. How should South proceed?

Declarer can count eight quick tricks and must score a ninth before East-West take the lead to defeat him. It is plain to see that South's one and only hope (remember that he sees only dummy's hand and his own) is to make four spade tricks instead of the obvious three.

Since East bid spades, he is far more likely to have the jack than West. To cash the K-Q and expect the jack to fall in the process is therefore a farfetched hope. But to find West with the singleton eight or nine is surely well within the realm of possibility.

Accordingly, South cashes the ace of clubs and leads a club to the nine. He then plays the ten of spades, planning to finesse if East follows low.

When East covers with the jack, South wins with the king, on which West plays the eight, enters dummy with a club, and leads the three of spades. When East follows low, South finesses the seven. The finesse succeeds and South now has his well-earned ninth trick.

Dinner

Members of the Soroptimist Club of Lincoln will meet for a 6:30 o'clock dinner, Wednesday, at the Hotel Cornhusker, with four members of VISTA (Volunteers In Service To America) as special guests.

The guests will be David Borsuk of Oshkosh, Wis., Miss Kate Walsh, Anaheim, Calif., Miss Tonya Lawson, Yellow Spring, Ohio, and Mike Henson, San Francisco, all working in the Lincoln area sponsored by the Lincoln Action Program and assisted by the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture 4-H Club.

Dinner hostess will be Mrs. Valorus Mills.

ABBY
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: When we have a priest to dinner, as we frequently do, we always ask him to say the blessings before the meals. Now, after much thought on the subject, we are wondering if this isn't a little presumptuous of us.

I don't want to disrupt tradition, but I would like to know how priests, ministers, and rabbis feel about this?

Should the host say the blessing at his own table as he always does even when a clergyman is present? Or out of courtesy to the clergyman, should he be offered the opportunity to say the grace.

I guess what I really want to know is this: How does the clergyman feel about this? Does he resent being "put to work" by being asked to say the blessing when he is a guest? Or would he feel slighted if the man of the house treated him as any other guest, and said the blessing himself?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: Here's a letter for priests, ministers, and rabbis to answer. I'll publish their replies because I'm sure that many other readers are also puzzled.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is an old one. My husband and I are in our early forties, and up to now I have always thought we had a good marriage. We have five wonderful children.)

Recently while going through his pants pockets before sending his suit to the cleaners, I came across a half-finished letter he had written to some woman. In it he thanked God for giving him such a person to love. My world came crashing down. I knew something was not quite right, but I put it down to job pressure.

I have thought of committing suicide, but who will take care of my children?

I pray my husband will soon come to his senses before our lives are ruined. Please print this letter, Abby, He may read it and realize what he is doing to all of us.

HEARTSICK IN HAWAII

DEAR HEARTSICK: And what if he doesn't see it? The only solution to your problem is to tell your husband you saw that letter. The next move will be his.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 600, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

MISS CAROL YVONNE PUDLEINER

This morning announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. H. Grant Pudleiner of Chico, Calif., of the engagement of their daughter, Carol Yvonne of Lincoln, to Kenneth Allen Ellstrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Runar Ellstrom of Hutchinson, Minn.

The wedding will take place June 9, at Littleton, Colo.

Miss Pudleiner is a junior nursing student at Union College, where her fiance is a senior in accounting.

town talk

We believe that the numbers game has gone—or if you can believe what you read—is going too far. No one has complained too much about zip code numbers, a telephone code number, a checking account code number, a club membership code number, a savings account code number, plus countless others. But when one mentions a city only by a code number, that's going too far.

In one of the slick paper magazines we read that the Federal Post Office authorities thought it would be a terrific idea just to use the zip code number of the city or town when addressing an envelope — We are fearful — Supposing it comes to substituting the zip code number for the city in the press.

Imagine this column, if you will, with nothing but zip codes for travelers or guests. Of course we always could say that Mr. and Mrs. Percy Pleasonton have just returned from 021-027-021 where they spent some time with their son who is attending school there. Or, we could tell you that Mr. and Mrs. John Pocahontas Smith left on Thursday for 900-859 where they will spend a few weeks before going on to 900-940 — or that John P. Jones, Jr., plans to go to 300-218—303 next September to attend college. There are all sorts of possibilities that might be fun to try — but not this morning.

* * *

Now back to the simple life to tell you that Mrs. Bennett Martin will be taking off early next week for New York City. Mrs. Martin, a member of The National Book Committee has received an invitation to attend the presentation of the 19th annual Book Awards on Wednesday, March 6. The ceremonies will be held in Philharmonic Hall, Lincoln Center.

The six awards categories include Fiction, Arts and Letters, Poetry, Science, Philosophy and Religion; History and Biography, and Translation. For each category there are three judges.

State Day

The members of Deborah Avery Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet for a 12:30 o'clock luncheon and State Day program, Friday, at the Hotel Cornhusker.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Donald Howe, will address the group on the topic, "A New Citizen Speaks". Mrs. O. E. Kingery will conduct a short meeting, during which the nominating committee will report.

Hostesses will be Mrs. William M. Folger, Mrs. Roberta Arend, Mrs. Guy R. Davis, Mrs. G. G. Duling, Mrs. Guy M. Harris, Mrs. Kenneth R. McCaw and Mrs. Paul Pidcock.

Stop Winter Dry Skin

This simple beauty hint will soon bring life and youthful radiance to a winter-dry skin. Wring out a face cloth in warm water and press it gently on and off the face until it begins to cool. This will help to encourage better circulation, bringing a healthy blood flow to the surface to give a lovely glow to the skin. Now, to hold the good which this stimulating treatment imparts, smooth on a beautifying film of oil of Olay.

suburbia

Park Valley Heights
Wedgewood Manor
Kessler Heights

Sunshine in suburbia doesn't have to be the sunny variety. In fact, since the celestial sun has been playing hide and seek and disappeared in Lincoln, residents are conjuring up some of their own brightness — guests, grandparents and chili suppers.

In Park Valley Heights Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Waldron and their family were hosts and hostesses to two weekend visitors. Arriving from their Callaway home were Mr. Waldron's mother, Mrs. Sylvia Waldron, and his sister, Mrs. LeRoy Young, who made a brief visit in suburbia en route to theater-going in Omaha.

Grandparents are having a heyday at the Wedgewood Manor home of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Geis where, on Monday, Feb. 19, at Bryan Hospital, Miss Cheryl Lynn Geis brought the family total to six. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Geis and Mr. and Mrs. George Michael, all of Lincoln and all, we suspect, very busy at the moment.

Of course, there are three other good reasons for commotion at the Geis household — Cheryl's brother and twin brother and sister, Todd, 5, and Timothy and Tamara, 3.

There have been other short-distance travelers in suburbia lately. On February 20, Trendwood resident Mrs. Edward Rack was among a group of PTA life members who were honored in Beatrice.

Dr. and Mrs. Rack also spent an evening in Omaha recently where they went out for dinner and attended a hockey game. They were accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Morris Baker.

Kessler Heights was the scene of a chili supper and bridge party on Friday evening as Mr. and Mrs. John F. Zimmer, III, and Mr. and Mrs. William Hoeppner hosted a going-away party for Mr. and Mrs. John Horner. A small group of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Zimmer to say good-bye to the Horners who will be moving to Kansas City in the very near future.

Another newcomer on the suburban scene is Master Michael Paul Douglas, the new son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Douglas of Lincoln Heights. Added to the talcum powder set at Bryan Hospital on Tuesday, Feb. 20, Michael weighed in at a manly 11 pounds and 12 ounces. At the moment, the young man is fascinating his older sister, Tammy, who is four-years-old.

Michael's grandparents are Mrs. Sara Douglas of Afton, Tenn., and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kuhl of Pawnee City who have been recent visitors to Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hestermann are also proud parents, but of a daughter. Miss Shari Ann, who arrived on Sunday, Feb. 18, at Lincoln General Hospital. Lending a helping hand this week with her new granddaughter is Mrs. Henry Hestermann of Adams who is visiting at the Hestermann home.

Shari Ann's other grandparents include Mr. Hestermann of Adams, of course, and Mr. and Mrs. Miller Runyan or Ong. Completing the young lady's family circle are a brother, Leslie, and sister, Linda.

We Hear That

Lincoln friends will be interested to learn of the birth of a son on Wednesday, Feb. 21, to Mr. and Mrs. Don Linscott of Falls City. Former Lincoln residents, Mr. and Mrs. Linscott are graduates of the University of Nebraska, where Mr. Linscott is a member of Phi Delta Theta. Mrs. Linscott, who is an Alpha Xi Delta, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John I. Scott. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Judd Linscott, Falls City.

Lasting 1:38 With Cooper

One of the first duties this writer had upon assuming the position as president of the Great Plains Amateur Boxing Association was presenting two-time National Golden Gloves champion Harley Cooper with a pair of Golden Gloves cuff links.

The ceremony to honor Cooper, who leaves soon for Germany to finish his Air Force career, took place in the boxing ring at the Omaha Civic Auditorium and lasted exactly one minute and 38 seconds, which means I stayed in the ring with Cooper longer than most of his foes.

There are countless numbers of folks across the nation, who have put many hours and years into Golden Gloves at no monetary gain, but few have done more than Cooper, the 33-year-old father of nine.

Must Be Dedicated

Cooper, who represented Nebraska as a National Golden Gloves champion as a heavyweight in 1963 and a light heavyweight in 1964 and qualified for the Olympics only to miss them with an injury, has served in Golden Gloves as a boxer, coach and referee.

"I enjoy coaching as much as I did fighting," the Offutt Air Force Base Negro points out. "When a fighter that you are training fights, there's some part of you in there fighting, too. The relationship that develops between a coach and a fighter is very close."

Cooper's current No. 1 protege, 156-pound Midwest Golden Gloves champion Hal Mitchell who was named the outstanding fighter in the tournament concluded last weekend, has been called by some a carbon copy of Cooper.

"Whatever you've been successful doing, you try to teach," Cooper explains. "Mitchell happened to fit the groove, but it isn't always that way.

"The main ingredients for a good fighter are desire and heart, a will to fight. Then you cultivate the raw talent.

"You can teach all the skills with the exception of power, but you can't teach courage. A boy has to have that to begin with."

Another thing Cooper demands if a boy wants to fight for him is dedication.

"A boy has to be willing to make some sacrifices and he must be willing to work hard and pay attention to what I tell him," Cooper says. "If he won't do that, I won't even bother with him."

But if the boy shows this dedication, there's no limit to the time Cooper will spend with him, just as he has in youth programs for the Gene Eppley Boys Club, the CYO and the Holy Angel Church in Omaha.

Thought About Turning Pro

Cooper admits that he once thought seriously about turning to a pro boxing career.

"Sure, I thought about it when I was starting to box, but a lot of buddies were turning pro and I saw them being rushed up too quickly in the ranks," he recalls. "And that made me decide against it.

"Then when I came to Omaha (and won those National Golden Gloves titles), I was too old. I thought about it again, but not very seriously because I had my mind made up.

"It was a matter of weighing a pro boxing career against giving up my Air Force career."

Cooper will serve three years and a few months in Germany to complete that career, then return to Omaha where he will work as a computer programmer.

While in Germany, he plans to coach an Air Force team, then resume his Golden Gloves work upon returning to Omaha.

Teaches Confidence, Self-Respect

Cooper figures it's worth a boy's time to learn to box because of the confidence and self-respect it instills.

"It's like when a skinny kid gets beat up by a bully," Cooper explains. "He's going to cry and it's not just that he's been beaten up or that he cries that hurts him. The biggest thing is that his ego has been deflated.

"The bully doesn't really want to fight anyway, and if the skinny kid had been taught how to box, he might still get beat up and he may still cry, but he at least was able to fight back and he will still have his self-respect."

Cooper is a fellow, who has gained the respect of all who have come into contact with him, and that respect has little to do with his fighting ability. The standing ovation he received from the crowd of nearly 7,000 Saturday night was proof of that.

. . . Nebraska Stays In Big Eight Race With Victory

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Nebraska, rapidly gaining a reputation for a home court advantage at the NU Coliseum that hadn't been rivaled since the advantage enjoyed by residents of an earlier Coliseum, stayed in the Big Eight race Tuesday night with a 76-69 victory over Kansas.

But the Huskers, now with an 8-4 record, must get help from somewhere other than the Coliseum if they are to add the Big Eight championship to their earlier triumph in the league tourney at Kansas City in December.

Kansas State's 70-63 win Tuesday night over Missouri moved the Wildcats into sole possession of first place with an 8-3 record, followed by Iowa State at 7-3, NU at 8-4 and Kansas at 7-4.

Thus unless someone can handle the Wildcats, who have dates remaining with Colorado and Oklahoma State at home and Iowa State on the road, Tuesday night's win means little to the Huskers other than keeping them in contention for second place and a possible return trip to the NIT in New York City.

Coach Joe Cipriano's Huskers, who are playing on the average 20 points better at home than on the road in league tests, came close to matching that Tuesday night with the seven-point victory reversing an 11-point setback suffered at Lawrence 10 days ago.

The victory pushed the NU win string in the Coliseum to nine straight with the last loss coming a year ago to the Jayhawks.

Kansas led only in the early stages and at one time in the second half trailed by as many as 17 points.

The Jayhawks' last lead came at 19-18 with 8:11 left in the first half when KU fought back from a 17-12 deficit.

Senoirs Tom Baack and Stuart Lantz then led the Huskers to a 38-31 halftime advantage, scoring five straight points in the final two minutes of the half while holding KU to none.

But it was an explosion early in the second half that put the game out of reach of the defending Big Eight champions.

Leading by seven at 45-38 with 17:07 left in the game, Nebraska put together a string of eight straight points.

Sophomore Bob Gratopp started it, Lantz hit a layin, and sophomore Tom Scantlebury added two more field goals for a 53-38 lead with 14:03 left.

The biggest lead came at 17 points when Gratopp put together five straight points in a 40-second span, starting with a field goal at the 13:13 mark, adding a free throw at 12:56 and a corner shot at 12:26 for a 59-42 NU lead.

Kansas began whittling away at the lead, but could come no closer than five points with the Huskers going into a delay game in the final four minutes, forcing Kansas to foul.

After two free throws by Baack put Nebraska on top at 70-61 with 3:06 remaining, Dave Nash got a tipin and Rich Bradshaw hit a fielder to cut the margin to 70-65 with 1:55 remaining.

But the Huskers then hit six of nine free throw attempts in the final 1:55 to salt away the victory.

Lantz led the Husker scoring for the third straight game, getting 22 points, with big scoring help from Gratopp with 21 and Baack with 19.

Nebraska will put its home streak on the line again Friday night when Iowa State makes the invasion, the final game of the season slated for the NU Coliseum.

Michigan Coach Joins CU Staff

Boulder, Colo. (AP) — Don James, 35, chief defensive coach at the University of Michigan, was named Tuesday as an assistant coach at the University of Colorado by Athletic Director Eddie Crowder.

James, a native of Massilon, Ohio, and a graduate of Miami, Fla., University, will assume his new job early next month, Crowder said.

James spent a year at Kansas as a graduate assistant, then was at Florida State from 1959 to 1965.

—TECH RIPS BEATRICE—

Prep Smashes Knight Hopes

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

Omaha came to town Tuesday night, stopping at Pershing Auditorium just long enough to collect all the prizes, as the District A-5 high school basketball tournament opened . . . and closed as far as Lincoln Southeast is concerned.

Omaha Tech ran away from Beatrice in the first game, 83-52, while Creighton Prep broke open a typically tight battle with Southeast in the second half to register a 69-56 win.

The Knight-Prep rematch started out just like the first one ended. Mike Peterson, who decided the first one with a long howitzer to give the Junior Jays a last-second 55-54 win, just didn't wait so long this time.

Wally McNaught's crew, fighting to stay alive in the championship title chase stayed in front the entire first quarter.

Early in the second stanza a sudden 10-point splurge gave Prep a momentary lead, but Southeast struck back to lead at the intermission break, 29-28.

Late in the third quarter it happened. The Knights lost their composure before a pressing Prep defense. Peterson scored all but two of 13 Prep points and the Junior Jays owned a 42-36 lead.

Midway through the final quarter a last-ditch comeback attempt pulled Southeast within one, 44-43, but a rash of turnovers saw Prep cram in 11 straight points. The 55-43 margin was too much to overcome.

Peterson had 18 of his 26 counters in the second half to pace the Junior Jays, while Mark Langer directed the attack from backcourt and added 18 more.

Beatrice was no match for the "Jumping Jacks" from Tech. The Orangemen stayed with the Trojans for half the first quarter, when the score was knotted at eight-all.

Then with a full court press and razor sharp passing combined with blinding speed, Tech rattled off 14 straight points to jump out in front, 22-8. It was over right then.

Tech isn't very tall, without a starter over six feet, but they rebound as though they had springs in their shoes. The Trojans clattered down the floor, after stealing the ball on the full-court press, with three and four-on-one situations so many times the statistician lost count.

One scoring spurt after another finally led to the biggest spread in the game just before the end when Tech held a 32-point margin.

The finals, since both Omaha schools won, moves to Boys Town Gym Friday night. Prep will seek its third straight triumph, having edged Tech in overtime, 76-74 at the Metro Holiday tourney, and beaten the Trojans 73-67 last Saturday night.

IOC Meeting May Be Held

London (AP) — A move to call a special meeting of the International Olympic Committee to discuss the 32-nation boycott caused by South Africa's readmission to the games is building up, Olympic officials said Tuesday.

Giulio Onesti, president of the Italian Olympic Committee, has asked Avery Brundage, ICC president, to call a special meeting and other delegates are prepared to back up the request, officials said.

Brundage has said he saw no possibility of a meeting being called, but IOC rules state that a meeting must be held if one third of the 71-nation body requests it.

Monday, 32 African nations withdrew from the games, scheduled for Oct. 12-27 in Mexico City, to protest South Africa's participation.

South Africa was barred from the 1964 games because of its racial policies, but was readmitted this year after promising to send an integrated team. Trials for the team will be segregated, however.

The Marquess of Exeter, an influential member of the IOC, agreed with Brundage that no special meeting should be held.

"We had exhaustive debates on the re-entry of South Africa," he said. "We took a postal vote on the issue and the vote was substantially in favor of South Africa's re-entry.

"The world would think it very strange if two weeks later we had another meeting to discuss the whole business yet again after making up our minds — not just the minds of the members present in Grenoble for the Winter Olympics, but by all members of the committee.

"Those who were not present in Grenoble had a copy of the IOC commission's report on sport in South Africa before voting."

Peru's Heine Eighth In All-Time Scoring

Peru — Final statistics for the 1967-68 Peru State College basketball season reveal the Bobcats' leading scorer, Wayne Heine, moved into eighth place in the all-time Peru scoring.

The 6-4 East Alton, Ill., junior tallied 488 points in 26 games to raise his career total to 1,051 points and his career average to 13.8. Peru's 12-14 record brought coach Jack McIntire's record is 185-120 in 12 years.

Eight Teams Go In NAIA District Mat Tournament

Omaha — Eight teams and approximately 90 wrestlers will go to the mats Saturday for the NAIA District II Wrestling Championships at the Omaha University Fieldhouse to decide just who is the Class of Nebraska college competition.

The day-night affair will begin at 10 a.m. with the first round while the consolation and championship matches will begin at 7 p.m. in the spacious OU Fieldhouse.

Host Omaha is the defending champion from last season. The Indians piled up 89 points to whip Wayne State's 78 for the title last year at Seward. OU added six individual titles last year.

Teams are entered from Omaha, Wayne, Dana, Kearney, Concordia, Chadron, Midland and Doane College.

Wayne Girls Capture College Cage Tourney

Peru — The Peru State College girls basketball team won one game and lost two in the annual Wayne State College Girls Invitational tournament at Wayne to finish fifth.

Wayne captured the tournament championship with a 45-25 victory over John F. Kennedy. Kearney State's coeds took third and St. Mary's of Omaha fourth. Midland and Doane colleges also competed.

Crete, Superior Reach Semis

By JOHN HINES
Star Sports Writer

The Crete Cardinals and Superior Wildcats went into the fourth quarters of their district B-1 high school basketball clashes at Nebraska Wesleyan Tuesday night with big leads but had to fight to the end before clinching a semifinal pairing for Friday night.

Undefeated Crete, the state's No. 2-ranked Class B quintet, had a 45-31 lead after three quarters over Fairbury but the Jeffs put on a full-court press at the start of the fourth quarter that forced the Cards to scrape out a 56-51 decision for their 17th straight victory. Crete had walloped Fairbury 64-36 in early-season play.

Superior avenged an earlier 55-51 defeat to Geneva by building a 56-41 bulge through three periods. However, it wasn't until the last three seconds of the game that Superior finally clinched a 73-70 triumph that boosted its record to 10-5 and ended Geneva's campaign at 12-7.

Superior's Alan Conger, the night's leading scorer with 27 points, hit seven of eight free throws in the last quarter, the last with three seconds left on the front end of a 1-1. Superior let Geneva shoot unmolested after the losers got the rebound of Conger's next toss.

Geneva's press forced seven Superior turnovers in the last quarter and a balanced Wildcat scoring attack took advantage of the opportunities for nine straight points that cut Superior's advantage to just 64-61 with 2½ minutes left.

When Mark Lebsack and Craig Conley popped in consecutive jump shots Geneva edged still closer to 70-68 with 48 seconds to go.

Then Conger hit both ends of a 1-1 with 40 seconds remaining before Lebsack's pair of charity tosses left it at 72-70 with eight seconds to go.

Conger took a pass just across mid-court and held the ball until he was fouled. Superior had just two buckets the last quarter to go with 13 free throws.

Superior's high-low post combination of Mike Sheets and Tom McGowan hit 16 and 18, respectively, mostly in the first three quarters to help the Wildcats build a 16-point bulge. Both fouled out in the last period.

Fairbury, a team which entered the game with a 2-15 record, had the distinction of holding Crete to its lowest total of the season.

In the final analysis, the Jeffs did contain Crete's outside shooting but couldn't stop the Cards' big men, Terry Waltman and Dave Drevo, who had 21 and 18 points, respectively, with Drevo hauling down 29 rebounds as the Cards nearly doubled Fairbury in that department. Crete hit only 33 per cent from the field.

John Milligan hit four of his eight floor buckets in the last stanza as Fairbury forced Crete off its game and into hurried mistakes. The closest Fairbury came was at 55-51 on a jumper by Milligan with 53 seconds left.

Crete then went into a delay game and Ben McDowell hit the first of a 1-1 with 30 seconds left before a final Fairbury shot failed.

Seward, Neumann Take Wins

. . . WINNERS ADVANCE TO SEMIFINALS

Seward — Seward held off pesky York and Wahoo Neumann raced past David City Aquinas to advance to the semifinals of the Class B District Tournament here Tuesday night.

Seward pulled away in the third quarter to dump the Dukes 71-63. Wahoo Neumann outscored Aquinas 16-0 during one stretch in its 65-48 triumph.

The wins mean that Seward and Wahoo Neumann will meet in the semifinals here Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Wahoo and Aurora meet at 7:30 p.m. here tonight in the other semifinal game.

York, which went into the game with only a 1-15 record, stormed to a 7-point lead over the Bluejays midway through the second quarter, but the Jays came back for a 32-21 lead at halftime. The score was tied 46-all late in the third quarter when Seward finally pulled ahead to stay.

Guard Steve Carr topped the Jays with 21 while forward Doug Tonninges added 20. Guard Rich Cecava topped the Dukes with 20.

Neumann, which won a first round tourney game for the first time in the school's history, was ahead 31-25 at halftime. The Monarchs, however, were still within striking distance.

Midway through the third quarter Aquinas was trailing 37-32 when the flood gates opened. The Cavaliers poured in 16 straight points while the Monarchs went scoreless to lead 53-32 early in the last stanza.

Neumann ran its record to 11-6 with the victory. Aquinas which defeated the same team 56-50 just a week ago, finished 10-9.

Nino Says He Is Fit For Fight

Kiamesha Lake, N.Y. (AP) — Italy's Nino Benvenuti, who contends a cracked rib led to his defeat by Emile Griffith last September, said Tuesday he is perfectly fit for his third middleweight title fight next Monday night.

"I am fine—no problems," said the handsome Italian after he, Griffith and Joe Frazier were examined by Dr. Harry Kleiman of the State Athletic Commission.

Buster Mathis, the fourth featured fighter on the doubleheader title card at Madison Square Garden, was examined at his Rhinebeck, N.Y., camp by Dr. Edwin Campbell.

Frazier, of Philadelphia, will meet Mathis of Grand Rapids, Mich., in a battle of unbeatens for New York and Massachusetts recognition as world heavyweight champion following the Griffith-Benvenuti rubber match.

Dr. Kleiman poked Benvenuti. "I am in good shape. I am ready to fight right now."

Dr. Kleiman said all three were in suberb condition.

While they were being examined, Edwin Dooley, the chairman of the commission, went over some of the rules for the fight.

He said the three-knockdown rule and the mandatory eight-count for knockdowns will be used. A fighter knocked down three times in one round is declared the loser on a technical knockout.

A knocked down fighter cannot be saved by the bell. The count will be continued until he gets up before 10 or is counted out. Eight-ounce gloves will be used.

Frazier, looking in top condition, boxed three ragged rounds with Don Warner of Philadelphia.

3 Of Elite Breeze, But One Falters

By The Associated Press

Three of the nation's ranking college basketball teams, including top-rated Houston, got off to excellent starts this week. But Marquette stumbled just as it started to climb.

Houston lifted its season record to 26-0 Monday night by defeating Hardin-Simmons, 105-82. Kentucky, No. 5, clinched the Southeastern Conference crown with an 89-57 triumph over Auburn.

Louisville, the only new team in The Associated Press' poll this week, trounched Memphis State. The Cardinals had moved into ninth place.

Marquette, however, was beaten by Xavier of Ohio, 88-83, in overtime. The Warriors had climbed from 10th to eighth place in the latest vote based on games through last Saturday.

Houston received 25 first-place votes and 321 points in the balloting by a national panel of 33 sports writers. UCLA, 21-1, held second place. The Bruins collected eight votes for the No. 1 spot and 305 points.

The Cougars have only two games remaining on their regular season schedule. They face Virginia Tech Saturday night and wind up the campaign next Monday night against West Texas State.

UCLA has three games left—against Stanford Friday night, California Saturday night and Southern California on March 9.

North Carolina, 22-1, accumulated 258 points in the voting and held onto third place. There were no changes either in the next four positions as St. Bonaventure held fourth place followed by Kentucky, Columbia and New Mexico.

The Bonnies remained unbeaten by defeating Creighton and Canisius last week for their 19th and 20th victories.

1. Houston (25)	27-0	321

Corvettes Biggest Cars At LeMans

Paris (AP) — Five Chevrolet Corvettes will be the biggest cars in the June 15-16 LeMans 24-hour automobile race, the organizers announced Tuesday.

The list of 55 cars invited for the 36th running of the event shows no factory sponsored Fords or Ferraris. These two makes have dominated the race in the past 10 years, with Ford winning in 1966 and 1967.

Rules have been changed this year to limit cylinder capacity of sports prototype models to 3,000 cubic centimeters. The Chevrolet Corvettes, with a cylinder capacity of 6,998 cc, are entered in the grand touring category. Jean-Claude Killy, France's triple Olympic gold medal winner in Alpine skiing events, will drive one of them.

Five Fords have been entered in the sports category. Three of the Fords are GT40 models, much smaller than the 7-litre prototype models entered last year by the factory.

Six Ferraris have been entered in the sports and grand touring classes.

Two American Howmet Turbine-powered cars were invited, but only one is expected to be available.

Porsche will have one of the strongest teams in the race with nine entries in the sports prototype division. Four of them are entered by the factory. Four Alfa-Romeos have been entered by the factory and another by a private Belgian team.

Trials for the race will be held April 6-7.

Kansas State Takes Big 8 Lead, 70-63

Columbia, Mo. (AP)—Kansas State took over undisputed first place in the madcap Big Eight basketball race by defeating Missouri 70-63 Tuesday night behind little Steve Honeycutt's 27 points and massive Nick Pino's 16 rebounds and 13 points.

K-State now stands 8-3 in league play, Iowa State 7-3, Nebraska 8-4 and Kansas 7-4 after losing at Nebraska Tuesday night.

The 7-foot-1 Pino fouled out with 7:30 left, Missouri hit the free throw and trailed by only five, 63-58. But that was as close as the Tigers came. K-State failed to make another goal after Honeycutt's jump shot gave the Wildcats their biggest lead, 61-50 with 9:41 left.

—TRYOUTS TURNED DOWN—

UCLA Cagers Nix Olympics

Kansas City (AP)—Lew Alcindor, Lucius Allen and Mike Warren, all stars on UCLA's defending NCAA champion basketball team, rejected invitations to compete in the Olympic Trials, the NCAA announced Tuesday.

In disclosing the action of the three UCLA players, the NCAA also announced its 48-man squad for the trials.

The NCAA said no UCLA players were included because the three players turned down the bids.

The squad does include Elvin Hayes, top man for Houston's No. 1-ranked Cougars, although Hayes earlier had indicated he might pass up the Olympics for an early start in pro ball.

Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, said the squad was being announced early because of premature disclosure that no UCLA players are included.

"Winning the NCAA championship assures foremost consideration for players of the championship team in Olympic selection," Byers said. "This, the defending champions received. The suggestion that the NCAA simply did not place UCLA players on the team is not correct."

Byers explained that the eight-man NCAA Olympic Basketball Committee after careful screening compiled a list of 145 to 150 players. Then the committee contacted the athletic department at each school to determine whether its nominees would be available for the trials.

"The response was most gratifying," Byers said. "We think this is a tremendous squad."

Byers said it is anticipated that all 48 of the players will accept the invitations. The squad includes 33 players from the university division and 15 from the college division.

The Olympic trials are scheduled April 4, 5 and 6 at Albuquerque, N.M.

Nebraska's Stuart Lantz and Creighton's Bob Portman were also selected for the tryouts along with Big Eight Conference standouts Don Smith of Iowa State and Jo Jo White of Kansas.

The 48-member squad:

Thornton Sets Record For Sacramento Perch

Valentine (AP) — Valentine businessman Corky Thornton has claimed a new state record for Sacramento Perch with a one-pound-13-ounce speciman pulled from Clear Lake on the Valentine National Wildlife Refuge near Valentine.

Game Warden Elvin Zimmerman of Valentine confirmed the catch was 12 ounces heavier than the old record catch by Howard Colburn, also of Valentine.

TV Stars Appearing At Sidney Rodeo Again

Sidney, Iowa — After a smashing success as stars of the 1966 Sidney, Iowa, Championship Rodeo, Doc and Festus of CBS-TV's top-rated "Gunsmoke" series will be the headline attraction at the 45th annual 1968 Rodeo here.

They will appear at all ten performances of the Rodeo, Aug. 13-18.

Mick Inks, Eyes Foxx' HR Mark

Fort Lauderdale, Fla. (AP) — Mickey Mantle, veteran star of the New York Yankees, signed his sixth consecutive $100,000 contract Tuesday and promptly set his sights on moving into third place on the all-time home run list.

"I think I can hit 30 home runs. I don't think that's out of the question," said the 36-year-old Mantle, who made a successful transition last season from center field to first base.

Mantle hit 22 homers last year, giving him a lifetime total of 518. Ahead of him are Babe Ruth with 714, Willie Mays 564, Jimmy Foxx 534 and Ted Williams, 521. Of the four, only Mays is still playing.

Mantle, who will be starting his 18th season with the Yanks, posted a .245 batting mark — his career low—in 1967. He played in 144 games, though, more than any other member of the team.

He is not proud of his performance. "I can't do any worse than last year," he said. "In some games, I think I was hurting the team by playing. This year I'll settle for about 125 games."

The three-time American League Most Valuable Player speculated that he would play about five innings during the exhibition games.

"There's still a lot I've got to learn about playing first base," he said. "But I'm going to take it a little easier this spring. A year ago. I worked harder and then pulled a leg muscle in the opening game of the season. I don't want that to happen again."

Mantle isn't sure how long he will continue as a player. "Of course, I'd like to keep playing. When I do quit, it's going to be a hard thing to do," he said.

The veteran is enthusiastic about the Yankees' chances of moving up in the American League pennant race. They finished ninth last year.

"We've got real good pitching and that's a big thing," he said.

Mantle's signing left only two Yanks outside the fold. They are third baseman Charley Smith and shortstop Ruben Amaro. Smith is recovering from knee surgery.

Palmer Plans To Phase Out

New York (AP)—Arnold Palmer, golf's greatest money winner, is calling it quits—by degrees.

"Don't misunderstand me," the muscular millionaire cautioned Tuesday. "I hope to be around for a long time.

"But I'm easing out, as of now.

"You might call it a phasing out operation. I'll be getting out, but I'm going to do it in a way that no one will notice. I'll just drop a tournament here, take a rest there. But I'll be around for the big ones.

"Look, I play 14 or 15 tournaments a year. Maybe more, I'll just cut down a little at a time."

Does that mean that the fierce desire is no longer tere?

"Not at all," the Latrobe, Pa., strongman said. "I think I want to win as much now as I ever did. Maybe even more.

"It's just that the time comes when you have to start thinking about easing off.

"This might even help my game.

"You know, you just can't get charged up week after week, tournament after tournament. I don't mean the big ones, the Masters, the U.S. Open. But week after week you just can't do it.

"This way, I'll be able to point for a tournament more. I'll be able to do the things I need to do to get ready. It really should help me."

Palmer, closing in on 39 and in his 15th year as a touring pro, has won most of the world's golfing honors and has parlayed his game into a fortune.

But the competitive flame still burns brightly.

"There still are lots of things I want to do," he said. "The PGA is one. And you always want to win another Open, another Masters.

"But I'd really like to get a PGA."

That's the one major title that has eluded him. And he was candid in his wish to join the tight little group that swept the world's four major professional titles.

"Maybe I can get it. Maybe not. Maybe it's my jinx, like Sam Snead and the Open."

A's Rick Monday Signs 1968 Pact

Oakland (AP) — The Oakland Athletics announced Tuesday that center fielder Rick Monday has signed his 1968 contract providing a 110 per cent boost in salary. The dollar figure was not disclosed.

Monday, a 1967 rookie from Santa Monica, led the A's in home runs, 14, and runs batted in 58, last year.

A 1965 All-American from Arizona State, he was the No. 1 draft choice of the A's in baseball's first free agent draft.

Signing of Monday leaves outfielder Mike Hershberger as the only A's player not announced as signed.

Stratton Duo Gets Top Player Award

. . . POWELL, LEAGUE SELECTED

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

Player of the week becomes plural as two teammates who have led Stratton to one of its most successful seasons share the honor.

Keith Powell and Coy League have been putting teeth in the Bulldog attack all season, and hope that for a change, it leads them to the state tournament.

Stratton is favored to grab a spot in the Lincoln Class D tourney this weekend when it faces district winners Sutherland, Wilsonville and Eustis for a single berth.

Powell and League dispelled any feeling that Hayes Center may have been their equal in the district finals, as they combined to destroy the Cardinals 84-66.

Powell scorched the nets for 36 points while League poured in 27 to settle that issue. Hayes Center had edged Stratton at home earlier in the year, 72-69. Powell, League and company had evened the score 75-61 in a conference tournament, then delivered the clincher in the district title game.

Despite a fine 20-3 record last season, the Bulldogs failed to win their district tourney. With two losses marring this year's slate, coach Norv Bricker's crew doesn't want a third. It's been a long time since they've been to state, and they hope the Powell-League express is heading that way.

Some others who had outstanding tournaments last week to keep their teams moving toward state titles, and thus deserve special recognition include:

Dan Yost, Sutherland—Wheatland, which had lost just two all year, was the opposition in the title game, but Yost played another of his outsanding games to score 26 and lead Sutherland into the regional playoffs.

Dale Haase, Hebron and Cal Christline, Sterling — It may seem strange to mention two such hot rivals in the same sentence, but here are two of the finest Class C players in the state . . . and both are juniors! Haase hit for 27 points to lead the Bears over unbeaten Deshler for a district crown, while Christline was superb in getting Sterling past rated Pawnee City and Tecumseh on successive nights. These two meet head-on Thursday night at Lincoln East Gym as their teams battle for a single state tournament berth.

Tom Wilkinson, Wood River—A 31-point effort, including a perfect 13-13 from the free throw line, pushed Wood River past Sumner to the district 13 Class D championship.

—FONNER RACING—

Payne, Blondie Back For More

Grand Island — Ed Payne and Blondie will be on hand in Grand Island when Fonner Park opens for a 29-day season on March 22.

Blondie, an English bulldog, lends her support to the Payne public stable as a good luck charm and mascot.

Trainer Ed Payne's training magic, with just a dash of racing luck produced by the presence of Blondie, yielded 14 wins in 1967 in Grand Island to make him the leading Fonner Park trainer.

The tall Texan from El Paso has been around too long to rely entirely on luck to make the stable the best. Payne will give good fortune a nudge to the plus-side with a stable of 20 horses for nine different owners.

Although the stable won 14 races and some $13,880 in purses at the 1967 Fonner meeting, Payne lacked a "big" horse to go for the larger purses in the features. The top horse under the shedrow was a three year old by the name of Handy Boy. He was a good colt, but not good enough to challenge the likes of Missile Pit and the top sophomores on the grounds.

The stable's "big" horse deficit this year will be filled by Erik Lea, who is currently campaigning at Oaklawn Park. The black gelding will give Payne a strong representive in the inaugural running of the Jake Grasmick Memorial, the Fonner Park Speed Handicap, and the Gus Fonner Memorial.

Erick Lea started only eight times during the 1967 racing season, but was able to score four triumphs. He accounted for his first win at Albuquerque late last fall, then went on to Sunland Park where he won three stakes and allowances in a row.

The five-year-old son of Erikel and Lea Lynn scored his most impressive win in Albuquerque with a length and one half win over Missile Pit and Nancycee with a record equaling time of 1:03 for five and one half furlongs.

Those rival horsemen who are expecting Payne's luck to fail him, forget it. Blondie's magic is still working.

Ed recently put in a claim for owner J. R. Adams at Sunland Park for Tack Boy. Twenty-eight other trainers made the same move to the claim box in hopes of claiming the same horse. You guessed it. Blondie worked her magic. Payne "out-shook" the other 28 trainers and led the winner back to his barn.

Kearney Invite Has Big Field

Kearney—Hundreds of Nebraska high school track and field men will compete in the annual Kearney State Indoor Invitational Track Meet Friday

The meet, which starts at 1 p.m., will see the athletes competing in ten events.

Field events—shot put, long jump, pole vault, and high jump—begin at 1 p.m. Track events begin at 1:30 with the preliminaries of the 75-yard high hurdles. Other events to be run are the 75-yard dash, one-mile run, two-mile relay, two-mile run, and one-mile relay.

Most of last year's winners have graduated, including Tom Hausel of Lexington, one-mile run; Steve Yentes, Holdrege, shot; Jan Cole, Kearney, 75-yard dash; Cliff Colglozier, Grant, two-mile; and Jeff Menuey, Alliance, pole vault.

Last year Alliance won the team trophy with 38 points. There were 27 teams scoring.

College athletes compete Saturday afternoon in the College Invitational. Track coach Charlie Foster expects entries from junior and four year colleges from Kansas, South Dakota and Nebraska.

Last year, the home Antelopes ran away with the meet. Included in the Saturday competition will be pole vault, high jump, shot, long jump, 75-yard high hurdles, 75-yard dash, mile run, 440, 880, two-mile run, two-mile relay, one-mile relay and 880-yard relay.

Peru Baseball Opens March 22

Peru — Spring got an unofficial start Monday at Peru State College when coach Joe Pelisek called his entire baseball squad to practice for the first time.

Infielders and outfielders thus joined pitchers and catchers who had been working out since early February. The Bobcat diamond men are preparing for a season which will open March 22, and which will include 27 games. Thirteen of the games are scheduled for Peru in six doubleheaders and one single game. Seven double headers, or 14 games, will be played on the road. The only single game date is Doane at Peru on May 2.

The schedule includes:

March 22 and 23 — Crowder College at Neosho, Mo.; March 30—Northwest Missouri State at Maryville: April 2—John F. Kennedy at Peru; 6—Wayne State at Wayne; 11—Hastings College at Peru; 20—Kearney State at Peru; 23—Concordia Teachers College at Seward; 27—St. Benedict's at Peru; 30—Simpson College at Indianola, Iowa; May 2—Doane College (1), at Peru; 4—Chadron State at Chadron; 7—Midwestern College at Peru; 11—Northwest Missouri State at Peru.

Cowboys Sign NU's Taucher

Dallas, Tex. (AP) — The National Football League Dallas Cowboys signed Tuesday their No. 7 draft choice, Bob Taucher, a 6-4, 251-pound growing boy from the University of Nebraska.

A team spokesman said Taucher, 21, was drafted because of his youth and potential to grow even larger. He is an offensive tackle.

Poles Better In Trading Than Sports

Warsaw, Poland (AP) — The Polish Olympic team returned from Grenoble without its handsome fur coats—having sold them for Western currency, the daily newspaper Zycie Warszawy reported Tuesday.

"Our athletes proved better tradesmen than sportsmen," it said.

Poland won no medals in the Winter Olympics but received a special cup for best attitude and most beautiful dress at the opening ceremony, the newspaper added.

"We propose the cup be given to the fashion house, Moda Polska, which designed the furcoats.

"How could the athletes be expected to observe the rules if the managers and coaches, people responsible for the team's behavior, were selling their own fur coats?"

The newspaper said the going price for a fur coat was $200. Only one transaction was on the up-and-up, it said — when skier Andrezej Bachleda swapped his coat with his friend, Jean-Claude Killy of France, for a few pairs of skis.

Danzer Outduels Wood For Ice Lead

Geneva (AP)—After a thrilling duel with U.S. Olympic silver medalist Tim Wood, defending champion Emmerich Danzer of Austria forged a lead in the world figure skating championships Tuesday.

After four figures, Danzer led with 684 points to Wood's 674.3. Patrick Pera of France, the bronze medalist at the winter Olympics in Grenoble, France, was third with 656.3 points.

Danzer who trailed Wood, 19, of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., after two figures, came back strongly at precisely the same stage where he cracked up in the Olympics two weeks ago and lost his chance for a medal.

Wood will have to make a superb effort Wednesday in the remaining two compulsory figures left in the competition, because Danzer is regarded as the world's top free skater and doesn't figure to be beaten in that part of the event.

Two other Americans, Scott Allen of Smoke Rise, N.J., and Gary Visconti of Detroit, were fourth and fifth respectively. Allen's point total was 639.7 and Visconti's was 633.1.

Danzer, 23, appeared headed for the gold medal at Grenoble but suddenly cracked up during the compulsory figures and despite a brilliant free-skating exhibition, he finished a disappointing fourth.

His coach attributed the failure to an attack of nerves. Tuesday, though, his performance was nerveless.

Trailing Wood by more than four points going into the third figures, a rocker right forward outside, Danzer quickly went into the lead and then increased it on the fourth compulsory, a paragraph double three left forward outside.

More than 300 skaters from 15 countries are taking part in the five-day meet where the United States' best hope for a title is Peggy Fleming,

To dinner on East 61st street on a freezing cold night in New York City. The weather has been the coldest in years. So the elegant doorman at the elegant Regency Hotel assures me.

Doormen should know. Of all the big city's workers, they are the most exposed. Bundled in great coat uniforms under the awnings of the plush hotels and apartment houses. Blasted by every wind and the stirred air of the passing traffic.

"Another cold one," he says, opening the taxi door and slipping the warm quarter into his pocket.

☆ ☆ ☆

This is the city of money. New York banks and stock markets chart the financial heart of the nation.

There are many new stock market offices. Great, gleaming glass supermarkets for shares and blue chips and dreams of a better tomorrow.

There's a new one on Park Avenue, not far from the hotel. On your way to lunch, you can drop in and pick up a few shares of Gumdrop Consolidated. Watch it go up and down in the papers.

☆ ☆ ☆

A financial man said to me in a warm bar: "It is very hard for Johnson to get Americans interested in the gold drain.

"A whole generation has grown up who have never seen a gold coin — except maybe in a pair of cufflinks.

"Now when I was a boy, gold coins were not common. But you did see them. People did use the $20 gold piece — I got one on a birthday I remember.

"But there hasn't been any gold coins around for 40 years or so. How can you get excited about something you've never seen?"

☆ ☆ ☆

America's gold is in Fort Knox, Kentucky. Every now and then some foreign country — usually France — presents us with paper dollars and says, "Cash these into gold, will you mon vieux?"

This has its greatest effect in New York City where the stock market brokers turn flip-flops. And that Gumdrops Consolidated you bought the other day goes down, down, down.

The financial man said: "The shareholder cannot understand why this is so.

"The Gumdrops company is still making gumdrops. People keep buying gumdrops. The big new building Gumdrops built in Manhattan is still standing.

"He can look in the building. Typewriters are clicking. Well-dressed executives come out at noon and go to expensive places on 52nd for lunch.

"Nobody looks worried. Business as usual.

"Then he picks up the New York Times and reads, 'Stock Market in Worst Day. Gumdrops Con off 6 points.'"

☆ ☆ ☆

The gold drain has affected the travel industry most. And New York is the main artery of the travel business.

The big agencies are here. The enormous airlines have their main offices in New York.

Two major American airlines just borrowed hundreds of millions of dollars to finance new airplanes.

They got the money from life insurance companies.

☆ ☆ ☆

An airline man said to me the other day: "If the government puts a heavy head tax on travel, how will we fill airplane seats?

"If we cannot fill airplane seats, how can we pay back the money to the life insurance companies?

"If the life insurance companies don't get their money back, how can they pay off the policies?

"I tell you this goes far beyond what it looks like in the papers."

☆ ☆ ☆

The President proposes to tax what travelers spend overseas — $7 a day free, then the money spent would be taxed in increasing percentages.

But the airline man said: "Who will administer the tax bureau? They will have to have so many people looking into declarations, it will cost more than they take in.

"Anyway, how can you know how much a person spent overseas?"

It is a tremendous problem and may even affect Gumdrops Consolidated.

Grant To Support Graduate Studies In Engineering

The Technical Products Division of Brunswick Corporation in Lincoln has established a $3,000 grant to support the education and research program of a graduate student in engineering mechanics at the University of Nebraska.

The Technical Products Division is a manufacturer of fiberglass - reinforced - plastic defense and commercial products. It opened its Lincoln plant in 1963 and recently acquired facilities at the Lincoln Airpark West.

The research, to be supervised by Prof. Ralph Foral, will be conducted in composite materials.

Dean John R. Davis of the College of Engineering and Architecture noted that the grant represents cooperation between a growing university and local industry.

County Okays Road Program

. . . RECORD $1,940,000

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster County Commissioners Tuesday adopted a record $1,940,000 road program for 1968 as proposed by Engineer Hugh Dillon.

An additional $17,000 in expenditures proposed by Dillon after submitting his original $1,923,000 proposed program brought the total program above the 1967 previous record of $1,935,200.

Dillion said he made the changes after he was notified by the state that it would furnish three miles of paving to tie in hard-sufaced access with the Branched Oak Recreation area near Raymond if the county would do the grading and culvert work.

The program as approved eliminates one and one-half miles of grading proposed for Macolm in the original program presented by Dillon.

Dillon explained to the board that the $17,000 added cost to the county would result in a net gain of three miles of graded and paved road which normally costs about $60,000 or more a mile.

The program submitted by Dillon calls for 8.95 miles of new paving, 14.5 miles of contracted road grading, 44.5 miles of grading with county forces and 22 bridges.

The revised programs also eliminates three bridges proposed between Malcolm and the Branched Oak Dam access road and substitutes three concrete bridges on the Branched Oak road from the dam to Raymond.

The largest single expenditure included in the adopted program is $728,000 for new construction compared to $738,200 last year, while labor and supervision is estimated at $564,000 for 1968 as compared to $537,000 for 1967.

Maintenance costs for 1968 are down about $25,000 from last year with costs for this year estimated at $514,000 as compared to $540,500 last year.

Expenditures for new equipment and property in the budget total $133,100 as compared to $119,500 last year.

County Fund Shift Directed

Lancaster County Commissioners Tuesday directed the county attorney's office to prepare a resolution to transfer $75,000 from the inheritance tax fund to county medical funds for the welfare department.

Welfare Director J. Earle Trabert had notified the board that an additional $75,000 would be necessary to carry the county through the 1967-68 fiscal year.

Due to rising costs, the county medical budget is running some $60,000 short with a balance of $56,444.33 remaining out of an annual budget of $225,000 for medical expenses for the indigent.

In other business the board referred to the county attorney's office two claims for refund of 1968 motor vehicle taxes filed last week by two local leasing corporations.

The board also approved $190.80 in penalty refunds to seven taxpayers and $4,691.93 in real estate tax refunds to 52 taxpayers.

State Senator Questions Validity Of Tax Petition

By BILL KETTER
United Press International

A state legislator and lawyer Tuesday questioned the constitutionality of initiative petition efforts to repeal the 1967 income tax law.

Sen. Fred W. Carstens of Beatrice, chairman of the Judiciary Committee, pointed to a longtime but little-known provision of the Nebraska constitution which provides:

"The necessary revenue of the state and its governmental subdivisions shall be raised by taxation in such manner as the Legislature may direct."

Carstens said the clause "would appear from the surface" to prohibit any popular vote on a revenue law enacted by the Legislature.

Court Test?

The senator said if either of the two current initiative petition campaigns to spike the new income-sales tax system prove successful, he will recommend Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer test the question in court.

Carstens said a 1967 law sponsored by the Judiciary Committee authorizes the attorney general to file an original action in the State Supreme Court to challenge the validity of any action of utmost concern to the welfare of the state.

"Certainly," he said, "there is no matter more vital and or utmost concern than the revenue that goes to support our state government."

Carstens said the issue that must be resolved is whether the Legislature or the people have the "ultimate authority to prescribe the tax laws under which this state shall function."

Drives to repeal the income tax are being sponsored by John M. Graff of Omaha and the Taxpayers' Research and Information Council.

The latter organization is headed by Loren Morris of North Platte. Other officers are Ted G. Baldwin of Kearney, Gerlad W. Gottula of Steinauer, W. P. Eddy of Norfolk, Kenneth R. Uston of Oshkosh, Thomas Strasburger of Ellsworth and Mrs. Ralph Pryce of Omaha.

Basic Question

Carstens said a "basic question" revolves around "if these campaigns are actually allowable under the constitution?"

He asked: "If the people, through the initiative and referendum procedure, can abolish or block the Legislature from providing for the needs of the state, where does our legislative branch of government stand?"

Carstens said the question "should have been answered before or immediately after the 1966 election when the people routed the 1965 income tax and prohibited a state property tax."

However, he added, the constitutional provision dealing with who shall be responsible for meeting the revenue needs of the state was not brought to light in time.

"So that we will not have the same situation, I am bringing it to the surface now," Carstens said. "I want all parties to be aware of the constitutional restraint so that there will be no charges of 'sore loser' if a suit is filed."

Possible Uses For City Hall Being Studied

Architect Lawrence Enerson Tuesday was named chairman of a 15-member committee formed by Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf to study possible new uses for the old City Hall building and the municipal building at 10th and Q.

Both will become vacant when the new County-City building at 10 and J opens this fall.

The committee said that all potential uses will be reviewed and public hearings will be held to give citizens a chance to air their views.

The city attorney's office will be used in an advisory capacity.

The $400,000 figure once estimated as the cost to renovate the city hall building "could be conservative," Enerson commented during the organizational meeting.

Other committee members are: Ross Martin, Henry Misle, Ralph Tyler, Steve Cook, Norm Krivosha, Morgan Batten, Jeff Caplan, Merle Hale, Earl Weber, Ervin Peterson, Burnam Yates, Bennett Martin Jr., Dr. Murlin Hodgell and J. Vaulx Risser.

Some Teachers Vote To Return In New Mexico

Albuquerque, N.M. (AP) — Striking teachers in Albuquerque and Belen voted Tuesday to return to their classrooms Thursday and await a report from a special task force named to seek a solution to New Mexico's public education money woes.

But teachers in several other cities, including Las Cruces and Raton, stayed away from classrooms Tuesday due to earlier commitments.

Teachers want not only higher salaries but also smaller class loads and better materials to work with. Salaries vary from district to district, with Albuquerque's range from $5,400 to $10,174 annually.

CARNIVAL SNACKERS

A pair of carnival clowns share a hotdog as they wait on the parade route Tuesday for the New Orleans Mardi Gras procession. Behind the makeup are Mr. and Mrs. William Ello Jr.

Reagan's Tax Assessment Hiked

Los Angeles (AP) — The Los Angeles County Assessment Appeals Board raised the tax assessment on Gov. Ronald Reagan's Malibu property Tuesday from $7,500 to $54,000.

It also raised the assessment on Malibu land that Reagan sold to the Fox Realty Co. from $229,200 to $364,800.

The reassessment followed a complaint from a Valinda teacher, Bryan Stevens. Stevens said Reagan's land should be valued at $87,500 and the Fox property at $430,000.

County Assessor Philip E. Watson, whose office made the original assessments, commented that the board's action "opened the door to anyone who has a beef with his neighbor to come in here and harass him."

Watson said the board apparently added his assessments to those asked by Stevens, then divided by two. The board did not comment.

Attorneys for Reagan and Fox said they would appeal.

NFO Reports Signing Of Contract With A 'Substantial' Meat Packer

Corning, Iowa (UPI)—The National Farmers Organization reported Tuesday night it has signed a contract with a "substantial" meat packing firm.

NFO President Oren Lee Staley declined to identify the firm, but he said the contract represents a "real breakthrough" in the farm organization's current holding action on grain and livestock.

Staley said the contract, entered into by the NFO on behalf of its members, "involves a minimum price and supply levels."

'Within Goal'

He said the prices "are within" the NFO's market boycott goal. The goal, announced earlier, is 32 cents a pound for cattle, 23 cents a pound for hogs, and 29 cents a pound for lambs.

Staley said he expected "many more" packers to sign contracts with the NFO.

"Packers realize that the NFO represents enough of the total (livestock) supply that they must sign in order to operate their plants," he said.

To Continue

He said the market boycott on livestock will continue until more contracts are signed and "we get our price across the board in all areas." He declined to say what the NFO's goal is for the number of packing house contracts.

He said individual packing firms that sign will not be identified "until we have quite a group of them."

The NFO livestock withholding began Feb. 12. It was the second phase of what Staley says eventually will be an "all-commodity" market boycott. The first phase of the current boycott involved only grain.

Cautious Heart Transplant Policy Urged By Academy

Washington (AP) — The National Academy of Sciences Tuesday urged a cautious policy on heart transplant operations, including adoption of "rigid safeguards" to assure that prospective donors and recipients face imminent death before such operations are undertaken.

The academy, in the first policy statement by any national medical or other scientific group on the subject, also urged that groups of medical experts, entirely independent of surgical teams planning such operations, be set up to offer judgment on whether surgery should be permitted to proceed.

The academy, recommending a set of "criteria for heart transplants," indicated it felt that few institutions in the world could meet them.

It urged certain other institutions to "resist the temptation" to undertake such operations until they are fully ready from the standpoint of all the criteria outlined — even though they might now have the purely surgical knowhow and facilities.

Brown, President Of Typographers, Dies In Colorado

Colorado Springs, Colo. (AP)—Elmer Brown, president of the International Typographical Union, died Tuesday at the Union Printers Home hospital here.

Brown, 66, had announced he would retire this year as head of the ITU.

Dr. Eugene R. Griffith, chief of the hospital medical staff, said pneumonia was the immediate cause of death, but that Brown suffered from cancer. He said Brown was admitted 10 days ago and his condition worsened over the weekend.

Brown was in Penrose Cancer Hospital from Dec. 6 to Jan. 10, hospital records show.

He was named head of the ITU in 1958 after serving as vice president since 1944. As president, he headed more than 123,000 printers and mailers in the United States and Canada.

John J. Pilch, the ITU first vice president and a candidate for president in the July 15 election, has been acting president during Brown's illness.

Guidance Center Meet To Feature Panel Discussion

A panel discussion entitled "Child Guidance Center—Who Needs It?" will be the highlight of the center's annual meeting Monday at 7:45 p.m. in the ballroom of the Cornhusker Hotel.

Members of the panel will be Dr. Kenneth Hubbell, chief psychiatrist at the center; Dr. M. G. Magnussen, director and chief psychologist, and Miss Sylvia Antholz, chief social worker.

Rep. Bob Denney Schedules Friday News Conference

Rep. Robert V. Denney, R-Neb., will hold a 2 p.m. news conference in the governor's hearing room at the Capitol Friday.

Denney, of Fairbury, is expected to announce his intention to file for re-election from the First Congressional District.

Earlier this month former Democratic Congressman Clair Callan of Odell said he probably would file for the post again.

Denney defeated Callan in the 1966 election by a narrow margin.

Pershing Rifles Gov. Tiemann's Honor Guard

The Pershing Rifles Tuesday became the personal honorary honor guard on the University of Nebraska campus for Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann.

Gov. Tiemann signed a proclamation making the appointment during a ceremony held in his office.

Cadets taking part in the proclamation ceremony were Lucas Smith of Kearney, Ronald Ruff of Hines, Ore., Dan Ellingson of Lincoln and Tym Livers of Omaha.

Law Prohibits License Tests On Saturdays

State Motor Vehicles Director Larry Johns said Tuesday that drivers license testing stations come under the law requiring state offices to be open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, for public business.

There has been some pressure from groups in Lincoln and Omaha to have the stations open on Saturdays to accomodate persons whose work schedules deter visits during the regular weekdays.

Johns said operational hours are not only affected by the state law but his budget permits no cash for overtime work by license examiners.

A new law requiring driver license re-examinations is increasing activity at the testing stations.

Building Permits Are Taken Out On Airport Work

Building permits were taken out from the city building inspection divison Tuesday for the constructon of T-hangars and taxiways at Lincoln Municipal Airport.

Rolfsmeier Co. of Seward won the contract to construct two sections of steel T-hangars costing $51,818.50 each.

The hangar space will be leased to fixed base operators at the airport and will house private aircraft.

Abel Construction Co. of Lincoln will construct concrete pavement and taxiways, totaling $85,897.

A permit was also issued to Bryan Memorial Hospital for additions and alterations totaling $1,418,098 at 4848 Sumner.

The hospital will remodel two existing floors and build a new one-story addition.

Illinois Slatemakers Pick Clark, Shapiro

Chicago (UPI) — Illinois Democratic leaders passed up Adlai E. Stevenson III and war on poverty director R. Sargent Shriver Tuesday and chose Atty. Gen. William G. Clark to oppose Senate minority leader Everett M. Dirksen's bid for re-election.

The slatemakers picked Lt. Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro as the regular party organization's choice to succeed Democratic Gov. Otto Kerner, who had announced he would not seek a third term.

Clark, 44, a vigorous two-term attorney general with a solid record of party regularity, promptly accepted the challenge.

"We always run to win," he told the party leaders. "I don't share the view that the present senator is impossible to beat."

Stevenson, son of the late U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and one-term Illinois governor, was believed to have been favored by party leaders for the senatorial nomination until last week.

His stock skidded when he told slatemakers Friday he would prefer to be governor and, if he were chosen for the Senate candidacy, he was not sure he would support all aspects of President Johnson's Vietnam policy.

Shriver, who has maintained a voting residence in a Chicago hotel during his years with the Peace Corps and the Office of Economic Opportunity, also had been spoken of prominently either as a senatorial or gubernatorial candidate.

His chances appeared to slip in the last two weeks, however, and he did not even appear before the ticket-makers to present his qualifications.

Shapiro, 60, lieutenant governor since 1960 and a seven-term veteran of the Illinois House, was Kerner's choice to succeed him at the statehouse.

He may get a head start. There have been repeated reports that Kerner soon may receive an appointment to a federal judgeship and will resign, turning the governor's chair over to Shapiro.

The final decisions on the regular party organization's choices were up to Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

Rubber Worker Is Awarded $710,000 In Insurance Suit

Santa Ana, Calif. (UPI)—A jury has awarded a father of eight $710,000 because his insurance company failed to pay him $150 monthly for job injuries.

U. L. Fletcher, 42, a rubber company worker who was awarded a purple heart for injuries suffered during the Korean war, had sued the Western National Life Insurance Co. of Amarillo, Tex., for $50,000 compensatory damages and $1 million punitive damages.

The jury in the courtroom of Superior Court Judge William Lee voted 9 to 3 Monday to award Fletcher $60,000 compensatory damages and $650,000 punitive damages, which are tax free.

'Outrage' Suit

Arthur Hews, the attorney for Fletcher, said the three dissenting jurors favored an award of $1 million punitive damages. The award was made under a recently authorized type of suit known as "outrage" directed against insurance firms which do not deal fairly with customers.

The suit filed a year ago alleged that Fletcher injured his back on the job in January, 1965, while working at the Uniroyal plant here.

Fletcher claimed that in November, 1963, he had obtained a $15,000 health and accident policy from the Texas insurance company through an agent here.

3 Payments

The rubber worker said he received three consecutive monthly disability payments of $150 each in 1965, but that the insurance company stopped payment.

The firm subsequently gave him two lump sum payments of $1,200 and $1,050. He said the $150 monthly payments were to have continued for the duration of his disability, under terms of his policy.

Fletcher also testified Uniroyal's insurance plan had been paying him $70 weekly. His attorney said Fletcher had to sell personal property to help support his family, that at times his utility service at home had been shut off and that the family lacked food.

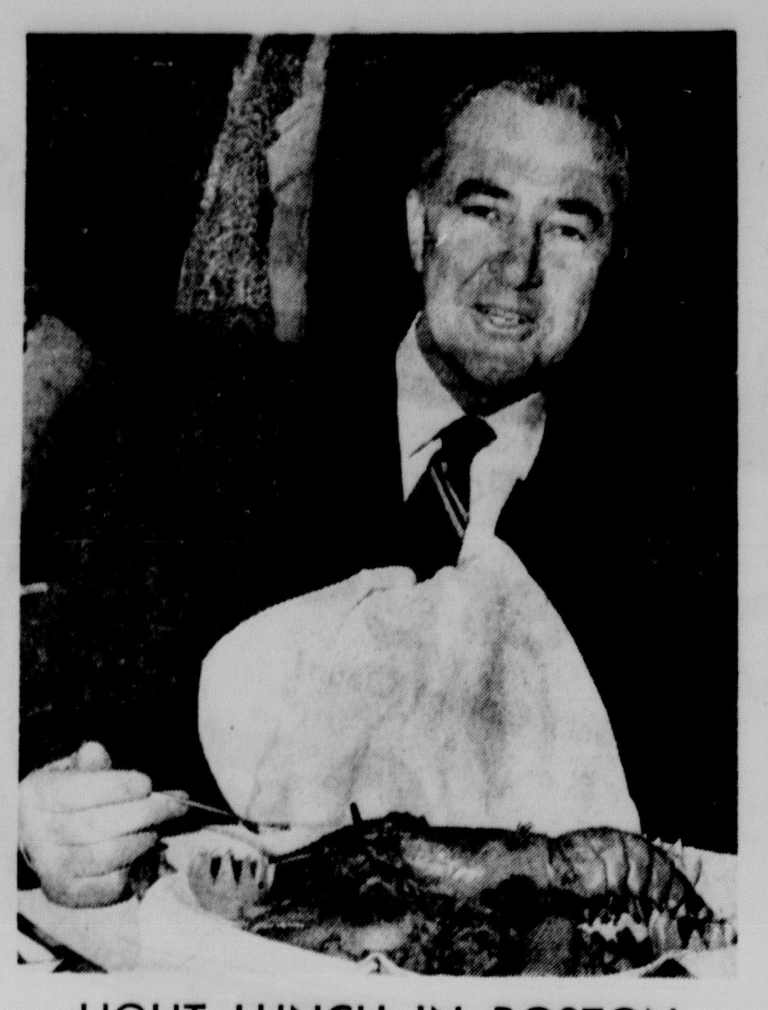
D. J. Erington Chosen Assistant Division Engineer

State Engineer John Hossack Tuesday announced the promotion of D. J. Erington to assistant division engineer for Division I.

Erington, who has been with the Department of Roads since 1951 and a registered professional engineer since 1960, succeeds Jack Reed, who was named secondary roads engineer last week.

Division I encompasses 12 southeastern Nebraska counties including Lancaster.



LIGHT LUNCH IN BOSTON

A two-pound Maine lobster confronted Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., when he stopped for lunch during a campaign tour of Boston Tuesday. The restaurant owner said it was standard fare for distinguished visitors.

Death Of Ex-Central Citian From Bomb Probed By FBI

Lorain, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services for Samuel Hammons Jr. — his bomb death still shrouded in mystery—were held Tuesday at Faith Lutheran Church in Avon where he had been congregation president. Burial will be Friday at Central City, Neb.

The 42-year-old Hammons was a health physicist dealing with radiation hazards at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Lewis Research Center in Cleveland.

Saturday night he died on the operating table at St. Joseph Hospital here, about four hours after opening a package that exploded with a noise heard two miles from the Hammons' home in Avon.

The package had arrived at the Greyhound Bus Terminal in Cleveland Thursday from Salt Lake City, Utah, and Hammons picked it up Saturday evening. On the 15-mile drive home from Cleveland, the victim's son, Dale, 14, carried the package on his lap.

'Wasn't Expecting Anything'

Dale said his father told him on the drive: "I don't know what's in this. I wasn't expecting anything."

The FBI, which has taken over the investigation, disclosed nothing of its progress, but did confirm the package was dispatched on Feb. 19 from Salt Lake City. It was learned Hammons' name was misspelled on the package, and his address number was wrong. The sender's return address in Salt Lake City was found to be non-existent.

The package contained a briefcase in which the bomb, possibly dynamite, and an intricate triggering mechanism were contained.

Hammons grew up on a farm outside Central City, Neb., where he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hammons Sr. His first wife, Mrs. Geraldine Hammons, 45, continued to live in Central City after being granted a divorce that ended their four-year marriage in 1950. A daughter in that first marriage, Nancy, 20, is a sophomore at Kearney State College in Nebraska.

In addition to the son, Dale, there are three children in Avon—Floyd and Lloyd, 17-year-old twins, and Samuel III, 10.

Woodmen Accident, Life Reports Gains For 1967

Woodmen Accident and Life Co. President E. J. Faulkner Tuesday reported substantial gains during 1967 in benefits paid, income earned, insurance in force, admitted assets and services rendered to policyowners.

Speaking at the company's annual policyowners meeting, Faulkner reviewed 1967 results, including a record high in health insurance premiums of $14,588,000 and total income of $28,680,000.

Life insurance in force increased to more than $591 million and new life insurance written in 1967 exceeded $124.8 million, he said.

Additions totaling $10,770,000 were made to the margins of safety available for meeting fluctuations in investment values and unforeseen adverse experience, Faulkner noted.

The company paid in excess of $10,470,000 to policyowners or their beneficiaries during 1967, bringing the total benefits paid since the company's founding in 1890 to more than $130 million.

Faulkner said that satisfactory operations resulting from improved investment yields, favorable mortality experience and conservative expense ratios made possible the continuation of liberal dividend payments on participating contracts of life insurance.

He announced that "further operating economies will be achieved with the planned installation of a 'third generation' electronic computer in mid-1968."

The computer "will permit Woodmen Accident and Life Co. to provide an advanced type of financial service to its insureds," Faulkner explained.

During annual elections, policyowners elected James W. Bradley, president of the Wander Co., U.S.A., and E. N. Thompson, president of the Cooper Foundation, to serve on the board of directors.

Faulkner announced the retirement of Walter W. White, publisher of The Lincoln Star, who had served on the board of directors since 1951.

Directors reelected for three-year terms by policy owners were E. J. Faulkner, Henry Y. Kleinkauf and Thomas C. Woods Jr. Other directors who continue to serve are R. L. Spangler, W. S. Henrion, R. W. Faulkner, W. I. Aitken, Ervin F. Rucklos, George P. Abel, Paul C. Schorr Jr. and Thomas H. Wake.

At the annual meeting of the board of directors, following the policy owners' meeting, all officers were re-elected: R. L. Spangler, chairman of the board; E. J. Faulkner, president; W. S. Henrion, senior vice president and treasurer; J. C. Angle, vice president and actuary; H. A. Atkinson, vice president and director of home-security; C. W. Faulkner, vice president and director of agencies; R. W. Faulkner, vice president; Wayland Mansfield, vice president-group insurance; O. C. Wood, vice president.

W. I. Aitken, general counsel; Dr. M. P. Brolsma, medical director; G. S. Davey, second vice president-life insurance underwriting; John Haessler, second vice president and counsel; G. M. Heaston, second vice president and associate director of home-security; J. J. McCuistion, second vice president-health insurance underwriting; G. E. Thompson, second vice president and secretary; D. K. Walcott, second vice president-sales services; H. A. Wiebers, second vice president and assistant treasurer; M. E. Young, second vice president-contracts.

R. D. Frickel, G. B. Klein, A. D. Safranek, W. R. Watson, assistant vice presidents; R. W. Mann, assistant to president and assistant secretary; T. E. Gillaspie, assistant to president; R. S. Bowers, G. W. Chase, Gary Fusselman, assistant secretaries; Clyde Johnson, controller; J. L. Neal, W. D. Orr, J. W. Wood, superintendents of agencies; W. D. Walters, director of education; J. W. Mason, director of accounting services; F. R. Rickers, associate actuary; D. T. Kirby, agency secretary.

School Bond Issue Okayed By District 161

A $995,000 school bond issue was approved by voters of Lancaster County School District No. 161 Tuesday.

In an unofficial count the bond issue was favored by 60% of the voters with 529 ballots for and 346 against. A 55% favorable vote was necessary for approval.

The bonds will be used for construction of a new junior-senior high school on the site of the former Agnew Missile Base, four miles east of Agnew. Officials expect work on the building to begin in the new future and estimated it would be ready by the fall of 1969.

The bond issue had been rejected by a narrow margin in an election held last July.

Tea Imports High

New York — U.S. tea imports in 1966 reached a near-record level of 133 million pounds valued at $57 million.

Lincoln Man, 32, Is Charged With Attempted Rape

A 32-year-old Lincoln man was charged Tuesday in Lancaster County Court with assault with intent to rape in connection with the alleged assault of a 67-year-old woman on Jan. 27.

George Edward Rough, 1336 O, waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to District Court. Judge Ralph Slocum set bond at $3,000.

The woman told Lincoln police that a man followed her from the downtown Lincoln area to near 13th and K where he attempted to rape her, police said.

Rough was arrested last week by Lincoln police in connection with another charge and as a suspect in the assault.

Stock Prices Rise After Early Slump

New York (AP) — It was a quiet day on Wall Street Tuesday and stock market prices ended higher after erasing an early loss.

Volume dropped to 7.6 million shares from 7.82 million Monday. It was the 25th of the current series of shortened sessions, four hours instead of the usual 5½.

The absence of drastically unfavorable news rather than the effect of good news was the reason for the slight improvement, analysts said.

The market declined at the start but even then a minority of favored issues showed strength. This strength spread to others as cash-rich investors, both private and institutional, stepped in to fill some gaps in their portfolios.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which showed an early loss of 2.72, ended with an advance of 4.91 at 846.68.

The underlying gloom and uncertainty involving the war news was still there but the market was given a respite from new shocks, either from the military or economic front.

Of 1,462 issues traded, 639 rose and 572 fell. New highs for 1967-'68 totaled 14 and new lows 35.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .2 to 307.8 with industrials up 1.9, rails off 1.5 and utilities up .4.

Gillette was the most active stock, off ⅛ at 46¼ on 489,200 shares.

Eight of the 15 most active stocks advanced, five declined and two were unchanged.

The New York Stock Exchange index rose 18 cents to $50.45.

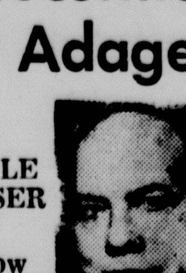
Prices edged higher irregularly on the American Stock Exchange.

Volume was 2.78 million shares compared with 3.23 million Monday.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

New Studies Of Securities Prove Wisdom Of Adage

By Merryle S. Rukeyser



MERRYLE RUKEYSER

'Buy Low Sell High'

In these highly sophisticated days of the computer, Wall Street has made complex mathematical studies of the behavior of security prices to prove anew the wisdom of the old adage "buy low, sell high."

These investigations are reported in highly technical detail in professional publications.

In revealing that elaborate research confirms the early truism, S. Francis Nicholson, former trust officer of the Provident National Bank of Philadelphia, pointed out in the "Financial Analysts Journal": "In recent years, several studies have been publicized with respect to superior average price performance with low price earnings ratios." These latter are the non-glamor stocks, which used a small multiplier to capitalize earnings. Such prices do not capitalize expectations of extraordinary future growth in earning power.

Nicholson disclosed: "'Present value' investors believe that a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush. They prefer investments which appear to give full or nearly full value in the present in addition to what may come in the future. They generally look for high near term earnings and may find a basis for further confidence in observing that dividends, depreciation charges, sales, assets or other figures appear substantial in relation to stock prices. They are inclined to be impressed with the possibilities of the cheaper and less popular stocks.

Perennial Conflict

"There is perennial conflict between those who emphasize the importance of favorable price relationships and other investors who give less attention to present figures and who confidently pay liberal prices for quality, for growth prospects or for favorable trends."

While low price-to-earnings stocks may sell 15 times current earnings, some of the glamor issues are quoted at as much as 60 times current earnings. The rationale is that the latter, with an expected unusual propensity for growth, are quoted at price-to-future earnings ratios, reflecting anticipation of expansion of earning power vastly in excess of that of average corporations.

However, there is always the possibility that the buyer is giving the anticipated benefits to the seller. Commitments in the growth issues can be made on more advantageous price-to-earnings ratios in temporary interludes of recession.

Logical Approach

In reporting on studies bearing on intrinsic stock values, Nicholson concluded: "It is logical that purchasers should seek the most for their money, and the purchaser of common stocks may logically seek the greater productivity represented by stocks with low rather than high price earnings ratios.

"Also, in seeking the most for his money, the purchaser of common stocks may reasonably conclude that there are plus factors in his favor if depreciation reserves are substantial rather than trivial and if sales and assets working for his dollar are proportionately large rather than minimal.

"Emphasis on these factors does not preclude him from endeavoring to recognize any situations with good prospects including those relatively rare growth stocks whose prices do not yet reflect all or most of the expected future benefits. He is likely to have better than average results from reliance on good current (earnings) figures. If good current figures and growth prospects can be combined, these are even better opportunities for successful investment."

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with stamped self addressed envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column. Others, to the extent time permits, will be handled by mail.)

Beatrice Driver Is Found Guilty In Fatal Accident

Beatrice (UPI) — A 20-year-old Beatrice man Tuesday was found guilty of motor vehicle homicide in connection with the death last September of Mrs. Henry Boehr.

Judge Ernest Hubka of the Gage County District Court deferred sentencing Arlen J. Ideus, pending an appeal.

Ideus' attorney, state Sen. Fred W. Carstens of Beatrice, said he is undecided on whether to carry the case to the state Supreme Court.

Police alleged that Ideus' car struck an auto driven by Henry Boehr of Beatrice at the intersection of 19th and Garfield Sts. in Beatrice. The impact threw Mrs. Boehr from the car, killing her instantly.

McCarthy Will Open Drive In Mid-March

Omaha (AP) — Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, peace candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, doesn't plan to open his Nebraska campaign until mid-March, Mark Acuff, his Nebraska co-ordinator announced.

Grant Okayed For Chadron's Science Building

Chadron (UPI)—Word was received here Tuesday from Rep. David Martin, R-Neb., of federal approval of a $375,000 grant for a new math and science building at Chadron State College.

The money approved by the U.S. Office of Education in Washington will match $750,000 in state-approved funds.

Martin said plans will go to the Nebraska Normal Board for approval, with construction ticketed to start late this coming spring if the board approves.

Wheat Futures Prices Decline

Chicago (AP)—Wheat futures prices declined one cent a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade Tuesday.

Volume of trade was only moderate but dealings involved all facets of the trade.

Wheat had been under selling pressure at the opening by some commercial interests and local traders. Later, commission houses joined in the liquidation and prices made the full dip of one cent.

Soybeans also were under selling pressure through most of the session, opening on an irregular tone and never moving above the previous close.

Corn, oats and rye prices were mixed.

At the close of trade, wheat was ¼ to ⅞ of a cent a bushel lower, March 1.45⅞-46; corn ¼ lower to ¼ higher, March 1.17⅝-¾; oats ⅜ lower to ¼ higher, March 78¾ cents; rye unchanged to ½ lower, March 1.22; and soybeans ¼ to ⅝ lower, March 2.72¼.

Pioneer Farm Families Due Honors Again

Omaha (AP)—The Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben and the Nebraska Association of Fair Managers said Tuesday they again will honor and recognize Nebraska pioneer farm families who have owned their land continuously for 100 years.

Roy Moeller of Cuming County, chairman of the Nebraska Pioneer Farm Award Committee, said 307 farm families have been so honored during the first 12 years of the program.

Honored families will receive an engraved plaque and an aluminum gate post marker and will be honored at a special banquet during the annual Ak-Sar-Ben Livestock Show and Rodeo here next September.

Moeller said nominations should be submitted by June 1 to the local county fair boards.

Turkey Meet Set

Cubans Ram Castoffs' Boat

Portsmouth, Va. (UPI) — A Cuban ship cast off three would-be defectors eight miles off the Virginia coast Tuesday, then rammed and opened fire on the small vessel before U.S. Coast Guard boats got clearance to intervene.

The Cuban skipper claimed he picked up the three men, but witnesses to the incident doubted it.

"I went through a lot watching those three men in the water," said Master Chief P. W. Cavinnis, skipper of the cutter Point Brown, first of two Coast Guard vessels at the scene.

At Deck Guns

He said Coast Guard men were at battle stations behind deck guns but he did not want to create an international incident by firing without orders from higher up. He finally got the orders, he said, but not until the lifeboat had been rammed twice by the Cuban vessel 26th of July.

"This happened in international waters. I wasn't prepared to start an action that could be over my head without orders," Cavinnis told a news conference when he returned to port Tuesday night.

A Coast Guard spokesman in Washington said the U.S. vessels were ordered by the group commander at Norfolk to stand off while the Cuban ship lowered the lifeboat. When the ramming was reported, the group commander ordered the Coast Guard boats to go to the scene to pickup any survivors.

The spokesman in Washington said there apparently were no orders for Cavinnis to intervene directly with the 26th of July.

Newsman Vern Jones of WAVY-TV in Norfolk made his way to the scene in a small boat and witnessed the incident.

Heading Home

The Point Brown and the Coast Guard tug Chock hemmed in the Cuban vessel for a brief period but by the time the U.S. boats got orders to intervene the incident had ended and the Cuban boat was headed home, hoisting its flag and radioing in English:

"The trouble is settled now. We go back to Cuba."

The 26th of July, which had hoisted the splintered lifeboat back on deck after ramming it, turned south and left the scene.

Cavinnis and Lt. Cmdr. R. H. Elkins, skipper of the Chock, said a rescue attempt would have been made had the Point Brown been in position, but the newsman disputed the claim.

Conflicting Claims

The Coast Guard men said the skipper of the 26th of July, Ricardo Puri, told them he picked up all three men in good condition. The U.S. Coast Guard in Washington said the Cubans picked up one man, but his condition was not known.

Cavinnis told the news conference that one of his crewmen saw a body hanging from a lifeline but the lifeline was not hoisted.

The Coast Guard men said Puri told them four of the 21 men aboard the 26th of July armed themselves and took over the vessel Monday night. Puri said they robbed the other men of personal belongings and $3,500 in Canadian money and then forced him to radio Portsmouth saying four crewmen wanted political asylum in the United States.

Puri said one of the men changed his mind but the other three got into the lifeboat.

Sprague Caucus Nominates Eight

Also nominated for the three seats were Gerald Judson, Roger Palmer, Melvin Nannen, Louis Hillis and Maynard Woodstruck.

2 Robbers Drive Up With Papers, Steal Rare Metal

New York (AP) — Two shipments of a rare metal, palladium, valed at $508,351 were stolen from a cargo office at Kennedy Airport on Tuesday by men posing as a truck driver and guard.

Palladium is used in watchmaking, jewelry and dental work.

The shipments had arrived last Wednesday and Friday from the Soviet Union and were consigned to Englehard Industries of Newark, N.J., said the carrier, KLM Royal Dutch Airlines.

A KLM spokesman said the two robbers drove to the airplane's cargo office Tuesday morning in a panel truck and represented themselves as agents for the Englehard company.

After showing what appeared to be proper papers, they were permitted to drive off with the 700 pounds of palladium.

Four hours later Englehard's real representatives showed up to claim the shipments.

Graduate School Group Urges Random Lottery

Washington (AP)—The Council of Graduate Schools in the United States appealed to Congress Tuesday to abolish all college draft deferments and turn to a random lottery of 19-year-olds to serve in the armed forces.

The council, which represents major universities across the country, also strongly opposed designation of certain subjects by which students would be eligible for deferment.

Under the new rules only those graduate students in the medical or related fields may be deferred in the future. Students in college or apprentice school may be deferred until they complete their training.

The council's position paper said the rule barring future draft deferments for graduate students imposes serious planning burdens on universities which rely heavily on graduate teaching assistants to teach some freshman courses.

The council stressed its acceptance of the principle that military service is an obligation of every able-bodied citizen.

"We believe that this obligation should be borne equally by all citizens and that neither graduate nor undergraduate students should be deferred or exempted from such service," the statement said.

"We believe that draft-eligible men should be inducted on the basis of random selection upon reaching the age of 19."

Missile Guard System Being Rushed By Navy

New York Times Service

Washington—The Navy is rushing into use a new defensive missile system designed to guard its ships against enemy aircraft and missiles.

The first operational missiles were recently installed aboard the nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Enterprise, Pentagon sources disclosed. The Enterprise is now operating, off the coast of North Vietnam.

Pentagon officials say it is hoped to install the new missiles as quickly as possible on a number of destroyers, cruisers and carriers. The defensive system, called Sea Sparrow, is a ship-based version of a radar-homing air-to-air missile long used by Air Force and Navy jets.

In recent congressional testimony, Navy Secretary Paul R. Ignatius warned of a rising threat to American vessels from "modern anti-ship missiles."

"The sinking of the Israeli destroyer Elath by Egyptian forces using Soviet-built anti-ship missiles is evidence of this . . . threat," he declared. Last Oct. 21, Egyptian Komar boats fired at least three Styx missiles into the Elath, sinking her.

While there have been recurrent reports of Styx missiles being shipped by the Soviet Union into North Vietnam, American intelligence has been unable to confirm them. "We're working on the assumption that whether or not there are Styx missiles in North Vietnam today, we may have to contend with them in the future," said one defense planner.

Communist China is believed to have such anti-shipping missiles together with at least two missile-firing boats able to launch them.

The Enterprise was selected for the first operational use of Sea Sparrow, it was explained, because it had no missile or even anti-aircraft artillery defense.

Wallace Might Be Independent On S.D. Ballot

Pierre, S.D. (UPI) — Former Alabama Governor George Wallace may be listed as an independent candidate for president on the South Dakota ballot in November.

The state attorney general ruled Monday that Wallace does not need to form a third party to get on the ballot, but must still collect 4,500 signatures to be listed as an independent.

The petitions must be filed 90 days before the election but cannot be circulated until after the South Dakota primary June 4, the attorney general said.

Wallace, a third party presidential candidate, has announced plans to appear on every state ballot, with the possible exception of Ohio, which requires over 400,000 signatures.

Nebraska Citians Reject Change In Government

Nebraska City (AP) — Nebraska City voters Tuesday rejected by more than a two to one margin a proposal to change the form of municipal government from the present commission.

The unofficial vote was 1,265 to retain the present form; 596 to change to a mayor-council form. There were 28 absentee ballots to be counted Monday.

Nebraska City is one of the last municipalities in Nebraska with a commission form of government.

Peking Accuses U.S. Of Intruding

Tokyo (AP) — Red China charged that two U.S. warplanes flew over its territorial waters Tuesday. It issued a "serious warning."

Radio Peking said one plane intruded over territorial waters east of Namoa Island and another near Yunghsing Island, both off the coast of the southern province of Kwangtung.

FOR GREATEST ECONOMY — start your ad for 10 times, cancel when you obtain results. You pay only the rate earned at the time of cancellation.

These low-cost rates apply to Want Ads from within the State of Nebraska which are placed for consecutive days and are paid for within 10 days after the ad expires or is canceled. Daily rate for ads from outside State of Nebraska is 49 cents per line.

Single paper rates either evening Journal or morning Star, are 93% of the combination rates. These ads would appear under "Too Late To Classify" column.

DEADLINES FOR FAMILY WANT ADS — Lincoln Journal (Evening)—Call before 10 a.m. Monday through Saturday for publication the same day. Lincoln Star (Morning)—Call before 6 p.m. Monday through Friday for publication on following day. Call before 5 p.m. Saturdays for Monday morning publication. Sunday Journal and Star—Call anytime before 1 p.m. on Saturdays for publication Sunday.

ERRORS: Advertisers should check their ad on first insertion and report any errors at once. Dial 477-8902.

ADJUSTMENTS: The company is responsible for typographical errors or misclassification only to cancel the first day's charge on that portion of an ad that may be rendered valueless by that error. All ads will be classified properly.

BLIND BOX SERVICE: There is a 50c aditional charge for this confidential service. When using a Blind Box Number, add 4 additional words to your Want Ad copy, figure the charges from the above table and add 50c for Blind Box Service Charges.

OFFICE HOURS: Daily, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Saturday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sunday, 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Northeast Area Eyes Federal Aid

Thurston County anti-poverty officials Tuesday asked the federal government to help wipe out rural poverty in the area.

In a meeting at the Capitol, William Campbell of South Sioux City, director of the Thurston County Community Action Council asked representatives of the federal Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) for $700,000 to help finance sewage treatment facilities at the Omaha and Winnebago Indian reservations.

"These people have been left behind and forgotten," he said. "The time is way overdue for helping them."

'Stepping Stone'

Campbell said the project, if approved, will be a "stepping stone" to eventually wiping out all poverty in the area.

He said the two reservations, which have a combined population of 1,889, have been chosen as the first recipients of any federal aid "because their problems are the worst in the area."

Future programs could include housing developments, new schools, recreation facilities and health centers.

Campbell Optimistic

The OEO officials took the request under advisement. However, Campbell said he is optimistic it will be approved.

Rev. G. C. Aalberts, the mayor of Winnebago, said most of the towns in the area are bankrupt and cannot go on much longer without additional aid.

"We need your help now," he said. "We have tried to conquer our problems by ourselves but we just can't do it without money."

In addition to the two Indian reservations, the towns of Macy, Walthill and Winnebago are included in the program.

Registration At NU 17,596

Final registration for the spring semester at the University of Nebraska totals 17,596. The figure includes late registrations.

This represents a gain of 9,627 students since the spring of 1960 and marks the ninth straight spring term that university enrollments have advanced.

The university's Teachers College shows the largest enrollment with 3,877 students followed by the College of Arts and Sciences with 3,697 students.

Enrollments in other academic areas: graduate, 2,061; teachers advanced professional, 663; agricultural, 1,153; business administration, 1,788; engineering and architecture, 1,860; medicine and nursing, 511; home economics, 700; dentistry, 198; law, 284; pharmacy, 216; junior division unclassified, 442; students-at-large, 146.

Mrs. Johnson's Press Secretary To Address NPA

Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, press secretary to the nation's First Lady, will be the featured speaker at the annual Nebraska Press Association Convention this spring, it was announced Tuesday.

Mrs. Carpenter, who has been with Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson since December of 1963, will address the awards banquet April 6 at the Sheraton-Fontenelle Hotel in Omaha.

The 94th convention opens April 4 with a meeting of the Nebraska Press Advertising Service, a sister organization of the press association.
